School Districts Gird for Bond Issue Vote

LUNCHTIME at Westmoor High School these days is strictly a standing room only affair. Students jam every available table while others stand in aisles, sipping milk and soft drinks and eating their lunches. Jefferson High School District officials say double sessions at district schools will be necessary if January 25 bond issue fails to be approved.

OPEN AIR passageway between classrooms at Benjamin Franklin School starts to fill up as a break in classes begins. The school's enrollment has passed designed capacity. Like the high school district, the Jefferson Elementary District also is faced with double sessions, barring voter approval of the January 25 bond issue. (Post-Times Photos)

Doubling Up Predicted If Election Fails

(Another Story, Page 19)

The Jefferson Elementary and High School Districts and their residents will face a moment of truth Tuesday, January 25.

On that day, the residents will be asked to vote for bond issues totaling $13-million in an election jointly sponsored by both school districts.

School Bond Issue Facts Are Outlined

Here is a question and answer bond statement issued jointly by the Jefferson Elementary and High School Districts in connection with the January 25 bond issue.

Q—Why is the election necessary?

High School—To obtain funds, local and state, to construct needed classrooms for 2,906 more sudents and to purchase two additional high school sites.

Elementary—To obtain local and state funds to build four new schools and add onto existing schools. The new facilities would house the enrollment expected by 1970.

Q—How much money is needed?

High School—$10 million in new bonds plus a new state loan authorization of $5.5 million.

Elementary—$3 million in new bonds.

Q—What will be the effect on taxes if the bond issues are approved?

High School and Elementary—the tax rate will not increase.

Q—What will happen to taxes if the bond issues are defeated?

High School—No effect.

Elementary—The tax rate will increase because the district will

Proceeds of the bonds would be used to finance the construction of new classroom facilities that, officials of both districts say, are needed if double sessions are to be avoided in elcmentary and high schools.

The election is being held at a time the officials candidly admit is not conducive to passage.

The electorate, they point out, is still incensed over the county's reassessment of property last year and the resultant higher tax bite.

However, they explain, passage of the bond issues — $10-million for the high school district and $3-million for the elementary district—will not mean an increase in the districts' tax rates.

This is because residents of both districts are now paying a legal maximum amount as part of their school taxes to repay past bonded indebtedness.

On the other hand, defeat of the elementary issue would force the district to raise its

Keating Seeks Lawmaker's House Seat

Edward Keating, editor of Ramparts Magazine, and a 25-year resident of San Mateo County, announced his entrance into the political campaign against Congressman J. Arthur Younger at a Pacifica Democrat Club meeting last week.

The gathering in the new Community Room of the Pacifica Library, concluded with a spirited question and answer period, which brought forth a variety of political opinions.

Club officials indicated Keating would run against Mark Sullivan in the Democratic primary.

(Sullivan, who hasn't announced he will run in the primary, said that he will have something to say about his position in a couple of weeks.)

"I have entered this campaign," Keating said, "to give the voters of San Mateo County a choice, not an echo. J. Arthur Younger is endorsing the administration viewpoint in Viet Nam. I think we are involved in an immoral war and we can no longer go down the primrose

D.C. Adopts Codification Of Its Laws

Council Will Study Price

Daly City councilmen Monday night adopted the city's first codification of its ordinances and regulations and then decided to study how to provide the code to the public at less than the $50 price its author estimated it should cost.

The code, in looseleaf form and contained in a handsome, green covering, was prepared by City Attorney Paul Hupf.

It gathers under one cover all the city's laws and regulations and assigns a code designation to them rather than an ordinance number.

Hupf said the code should be priced at the amount it costs the city to print it and he estimated this would be $50—"if not more."

Councilman Albert Polonsky questioned whether the price wasn't too high and suggested that the council might consider providing it to the public at less than cost.

Mayor Francis Pacelli commented that copies could be provided to libraries—both city and school.

Hupf said later that the code had been in the organization and preparation stage "for two to three years." It is published by the Michie City Publishing Company of Los Angeles.

In other business, the council referred a request for development of a mutual plan for the preservation of open space on San Bruno Mountain to the Planning Commission.

The request had been sent by the South San Francisco Planning Commission.

Councilman Micheal DeBernardi wondered if the Department of Public Works shouldn't begin action now on proposals for more water storage facilities on top of the mountain.

Fellow councilmen agreed to discuss the idea at the council's next study session.

In other action, the council:

D.C. Replaces Street Signs—Color Added

The city of Daly City has begun its first new project of the new year — the replacement of the city's street signs.

Prime reason for the replacement, according to city officials, is to make the street signs more easily visible at night.

The new signs in color rather than in the conventional black and white, will be reflectorized silver and blue.

The new signs also are more visible during the day because of the larger size of the new letters.

The blue background will give motorists an awareness of the city since none of the surrounding cities use this type of sign.

APRIL 12 BALLOT

Pacifica Council Mulls Beach Vote

Three possible valid issues for an April 12 bond election were discussed at a special Pacifica City Council study session last week.

Karl Baldwin, city manager, said that purchase of all of Pacifica's beaches would be one issue on the election. Total cost of purchase, he said, would be $1,862,000.

He noted, however, that matching open-space funds of 50 per cent would come from the federal government if the land is kept as public domain.

He suggested that the city keep aside about 3½ acres for private leasing. This, he felt, would bring revenue to a sinking fund for interest and redemption on the bonds.

Other possibilities for aid in beach purchase, Baldwin said, were open-space land grants from San Mateo County and from state wildlife money.

"The beach purchase bonds would leave us free and clear of any tax increase for approximately 15 of the 30-year bond life," Baldwin said.

"First, we must buy the land," he cautioned, "but we are five years away from beach development or erosion control."

F. A. Bloom, executive director of the San Mateo County Housing Authority, discussed another ballot issue, authority for low rent senior citizens' housing.

The voters will be asked to authorize up to 300 houses. Bloom said that the county housing authority, using federal funds, will give first priority to Pacifica over any other community in San Mateo County because the need has been established here.

Baldwin suggested that the third ballot issue should authorize $250,000 or $300,000 for the purchase of a civic center site for Pacifica.

This would require a 20-year bond, he said, that would start with a five-cent tax increase, to be reduced to four cents and then to three. He noted that,

Building Booms in D.C.

ACCORDING to figures released last week by the Daly City building inspector, 1965 was the second greatest year in history for new construction.

Value of construction exceeded $20 million. This figure ranks second only to the 1959 figure of $25 million.

Fed by the construction of the new Daly City Civic Center, which will cost about $2.1 million, building activity in Daly City showed a hefty $8.2-million boost over 1964, according to the figures.

THE MOST significant increase was shown in duplex building. Estimated cost of new duplex construction was up seven times over the 1964 figure of $86,000.

Another phase of building to show a big increase was new homes. Estimated cost of construction for homes jumped four-fold over the 1964 figure to $9.1-million in 1965.

Most of this was accounted for by permits issued for houses in the city's huge, new Serramonte subdivision.

In apartment building, one of the pace-setters in recent years, the level of activity remained about the same as 1964. Estimated cost of new construction totalled $7.4-million.

Of 17 separate categories listed in the building department's annual report, eight showed increases over 1964, six were below the 1964 level

TEACHERS OBJECT

JUHSD Okays New Procedure For Meetings

By DON MILLER

A new policy governing "conduct and procedures" at board meetings was adopted Monday night by the trustees of the Jefferson Union High School District.

The action came after a lengthy discussion in which representatives of two district teacher organizations protested the policy, claiming that it would restrict them from making observations and comments at board meetings.

Under the new format, visitors who wish to address the board must fill out a card, asking to be heard.

Visitors' comments will be heard when trustees reach that part of the agenda that calls for "delegations and-or petitions."

The new policy limits remarks to three minutes. Visitors may then ask that their requests or complaints be placed on the agenda for a future meeting.

The policy was proposed by board president Elio Fontana at a meeting of the board December 20.

It states that "the chair will immediately terminate the speaker's privilege of address should remarks become defamatory or abusive."

In addition, the policy notes, "it is impossible for the board to make intelligent decisions without complete information; thus, except by unanimous consent, the board will not act on any item which is not on the agenda."

Protesting the adoption of the policy were Robert Nissen, president of the Jefferson District of Federation of Teachers, and Norman MacDonald, vice president of the Jefferson Union High School District Teachers' Association.

In other action, the board approved the hiring of a co-ordinator of projects and federal aid grants.

The co-ordinator would write applications for funds, help evaluate the effectiveness of all federal aid programs, act as liaison between the district and other community agencies interested in federal legislation and oversee and plan and supervise

Hearing Set On School Unity Issue

A school district reorganization review committee will hold a public hearing on plans to unify North County school districts at 8 p.m. February 1 at the Westmoor High School Little Theater in Daly City.

Purpose of the hearing will be to hear interested parties and raise questions on the subject of the possible formation of one or more unified districts comprising the territory of Jefferson Union High School District or the territory of Jefferson Union High School District and the South San Francisco Unified School District.

Westmoor High School is located at 131 Westmoor Avenue in Daly City.

The six-member committee, appointed by the state superintendent, is composed of: James Tormey, county superintendent of schools; J. Paul Bradley of the Santa Clara County Board of Education, John Hagerty of the Alameda County Board of Education, Mrs. Lucille Mauzy have to build its schools without state help.

Q—Why won't taxes go up if the bond issues are approved?

High School—State law has established a rate of 40 cents per $100 as the maximum homeowners can be charged for the repayment of local bonds and state loans. Because of past borrowing, the bond tax will remain at about 40 cents for the next 13 years.

Elementary — The maximum repayment rate in elementary districts is 45 cents per $100 of assessed valuation. This rate will continue, because of past borrowing, until 1990.

Q—What are the present enrollments and the enrollments expected in 1971, the year for which the districts are planning in their bond proposals?

High School—6,300 now and 9,600 in 1971.

Elementary — 9,763 now and 13,000 in 1971.

Q—What will happen if the bond election fails?

High School—By 1968-69, some or all of the high schools in the district would be on double sessions.

Elementary — The tax rate would increase this year and double sessions would be inevitable.

Q—Can any of the bond issue moneys, if voted, be used for salaries of teachers, administrators or other school personnel?

High School and Elementary—No. Bond monies can be used only for capital outlay. This includes new classrooms, school furniture and equipment, school sites, architect fees and the building of permanent structures.

Q—How much money is available for school construction and the purchase of additional school sites at the present time?

High School—None.

Elementary—Money is available to complete John F. Kennedy School, the new seventh and eighth grade facility, renovate Woodrow Wilson School and to buy a site for a new school. Money is not available for further classroom facilities.

Further information about the school bond issues, district officials said, can be obtained by calling:

Edward Morgan, superintendent of the high school district, 755-1162.

Frank Greenwood, superintendent of the elementary district, 992-1000.

tax rate so that the average homeowner would be paying an extra 10 to 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuation.

This is because failure of the bond issue vote would obligate the district to leave the state aid program and thus be unable to borrow funds for new construction.

To help both districts promote the bond election, a citizens' committee, under the chairmanship of Dr. Earl Herald, has been working to provide residents with facts and figures on the election.

In addition, members of the administrations and the boards of trustees of both districts are meeting with community groups to answer questions about the bond issues.

The district also approved the Compensatory Education Program, sponsored by the state, which helps districts aid pupils affected by language, cultural and economic disadvantages and who are potentially capable of completing regular courses of instruction.

Dr. Harold Tonini, principal of Terra Nova High School, was named as the district's representative to process grants for the program.

He reported that $9,850 would be spent on the program at Oceana High School, $14,844 at Jefferson High School, $11,786 in the 1966 summer school to be held at Oceana and $3,440 at the district level.

An application for the funds must be submitted to state officials in Sacramento before the board's next meeting.

In other action, trustees:

Coast Will Study Bomb Scare Policy

By BERENICE PALMER

The Pacifica City Council tonight will consider an evaluation of a police department bomb threat policy prepared by Police Chief Neil Tremaine.

In addition to a December bomb explosion at the Central Market in Pacifica, the Sanchez Elementary School received a bomb threat last week.

Tremaine comments: "In the case of the Central Market, there is little doubt that the decision not to evacuate was incorrect."

Tremaine points out, however, that the judgment was made by him after agreement with the manager of the store and in accordance with the police department policy, which he states "remains sound."

The present policy is that unless there is strong evidence of a bomb, no evacuation should take place.

"Full scale evacuation and response by police and fire units only increases the number of threats received," Tremaine says.

City Manager Karl Baldwin supports this view.

"The more publicity and the more play that is given to these events, the more persons who use this for excitement or other satisfaction will be encouraged."

Baldwin will urge strongly that police officials "have the approval to evaluate each case on the basis of known facts at the time and in accordance with this general policy laid down for such incidents."

Other items to be considered on tonight's lengthy agenda are:

Re-classification of 37 acres owned by Challenge Developments to single family residential. The land is adjacent to and south of Terra Nova High School in Linda Mar.

An appeal from Congregation Anshe Shalom for reconsideration of a request to build a temple at 366 San Pablo.

Support for the City of South San Francisco in its bid for an early study by freeway planners of the proposed Bay Front Freeway.

Final adoption of a zoning ordinance for Pacifica.

Bond Issue Is Proposed

"we are well within our bonding capacity of $6,600,000."

Baldwin recommended at the conclusion of the study session that services of financial consultants be obtained for help on the bond election.

MICHEAL DeBERNARDI
Seeks Re-election

DeBernardi To Run For Re-election

Former Daly City mayor Micheal DeBernardi has declared his intention to run for re-election to a fourth full term on the Daly City City Council.

DeBernardi is the second councilman to announce his candidacy. Edward Dennis declared his intention to run last week.

Bernard Lycett, another incumbent, is expected to announce his candidacy in the near future.

DeBernardi, a councilman since 1954, has been closely associated with two key issues in the North County during the past years: Daly City's water supply and transportation.

The 40-year-old councilman is a member of the West Bay Rapid Transit Authority's (WBRTA) Board of Directors, a board charged with the task of implementing a rapid transit plan for San Mateo County by 1969.

DeBernardi has expressed the hope that the city can eliminate what he has termed "its water deficiencies."

It was the separation of water department revenues from the city's general fund that became one of DeBernardi's major campaign promises when he ran for councilman in 1954.

He was successful in initiating the separation, thereby putting money back into what he said were needed improvements in the system.

With the completion of storage tanks in Serramonte and on San Bruno Mountain, almost $11 million will have been spent for water facilities since he first came on the council, DeBernardi pointed out in a statement.

The financial move put the city, according to the statement, on a "pay-as-you-go" basis which has resulted in the city's avoidance of bond issues.

The fiscal policy has also been adopted by the North San Mateo County Sanitation District where DeBernardi serves as chairman of the district's board of directors.

On transit, he noted:

"Daly City is in the unique position of having the terminal station of one rapid transit district (BARTD) in its boundaries and being part of another rapid transit district (WBRTA).

"I want to make sure that the problems of the co-ordination of the two systems are minimal and that Daly City and San Mateo County will not be caught in a squeeze."

A World War II veteran, DeBernardi lives at 198 Lincoln Avenue with his wife Pat and four of their five children. His oldest son, Micheal, is serving with the 82nd Airborne Division in the Dominican Republic.

In addition to having interests in gas stations and a stationery supply store in Daly City, he is a member of the Daly City Rotary Club, the Lake Merced Optimist Club, the Daly City-Colma Chamber of Commerce, the Navy League, the Westmoor High School P-TA, the Thomas Edison School P-TA and Elks' Club Lodge 2091.

He also serves as a director-at-large for the Boy Scouts of America.

path that threatens to engulf us in World War III."

Keating described the increase in protest moves in this country from religious leaders and community groups as well as student protesters. He stated that the government's present peace moves are proceeding from a false premise, that Hanoi is the aggressor, and that this would be used as a device to escalate.

"If we bomb the north," he said, "we will have reached the point of no return. The end does not always justify the means."

In answer to the question, "What about American prestige?" he answered that he did not think that this country is prepared for the dominant position we play in the world today.

"We have to face the fact," he added, "that communism exists over practically one-third of the world's population. It is a divided world. If we were not in Viet Nam it would be China's problem, not ours."

Several times in his talk Keating repeated that the only present solution in Viet Nam was to "get out."

Keating also discussed his concern with "people rather than institutions, which is why I am a radical."

In discussing civil rights and poverty, he stated that Younger had shown negativism in his actions. "He hasn't done anything in the county against the war on poverty or civil rights because he doesn't believe in these things. The way to show care is through the political process. Legislation must be implemented, must be made real. I would like to participate in the reform of Congress and the awesome power of the executive branch."

She was a native of Italy, and a resident of South San Francisco for nine years.

Survivors include a son, Joseph, South San Francisco; three grandchildren, and brothers and sisters in Italy.

A requiem mass was celebrated at Mater Dolorosa Church. Interment was in Holy Cross Cemetery, Colma.

By LE PACINI

BEFORE DISPENSING our annual bowl games impressions, which this year consist basically of the only saddle sores ever perpetrated by a reclining chair, let us tell you about how we privately picked both UCLA and the West.

We wanted to mention those stupendous feats of prognostication before we also told about how we DIDN'T pick Missouri, LSU, Alabama, the Southern All-Stars, the Buffalo Bills, or Green Bay, all of which amounts to missing six out of a possible 11.

Now we think you can see why we make these picks privately, stuff them into an envelope and register them, with a request that they not be revealed until our demise.

You never would have known about them if we hadn't picked UCLA (blind luck) and the West (because they're always underdogs and usually win, and ESPECIALLY if we hadn't over-indulged at holiday parties rigorously enough so that our wife thought this WAS the time to reveal all those contents.

We logically figured that if our wife knew our picks, the world would know, so what would be the percentage in keeping them out of the Post?

Which also means that we may now reveal our percentage of correct picks during the entire football season, starting last January and ending this January.

We picked at a startling rate of 63 per cent of the college games and 63 per cent of the pro games, which means, computing by The New Math, that we had an overall percentage of 63.

Which is a strong indication that we could have done just as well by consulting Bob Fouts . . . or even Ira Blue.

Oh yes, our impressions. We were impressed mainly by the fact that, according to Bowl game announcers, there were, this past season, a MINIMUM of 100 full-fledged All Americans, including several substitutes, one of whom was described as an All American ball holder on placement kicks.

If it is possible to have a 100-man All American team, this can mean only that the rule changes must soon be implemented.

We were next most impressed by the talent of play execution displayed by both UCLA and Green Bay.

The Bruins did the only things a physically outmanned team can do. They out-executed, out-gutted and out-foxed Michigan State.

Their sense of the unexpected was perfect, as exemplified by Gary Beban's opening 27-yard keeper and that on-side kick.

And we don't think enough was made of the fact that the "small" Bruins FOUR times held the huge Spartans on third and fourth down situations with a yard or less to go.

As for Green Bay, they once again proved that football, for all of its fancy terminology, is still a game of blocking and tackling.

WE DON'T KNOW why we should be upset over all the "All Americans" who participated in bowl games, because if the pros depended on All Americans they'd starve.

THERE'S JUST one other thing about so-called modern football which bothers us. Whatever happened to the genuine break-away threat?

Oh, there's Gale Sayers, and a few kick-off and punt return men, but what about the McElhennys, Youngs, Matsons, et al?

It may be true that with the sizes of men now being grown that the old-time scatback is no longer needed or practical.

But what do we do for real thrills, nowadays?

WE HAVE a wonderful idea which we offer to the NFL for the price of reading this column (which, come to think of it, is a helluva price to pay).

This idea concerns how to beat the AFL. All the older league has to do is LET the newcomer sign all of the big stars for their fantastic bonuses. Evenutally all AFL clubs will go bankrupt . . . of course, they will have DARNED good teams too.

LOCAL NOTES:

WHEN LITTLE SANDY GREEN replaced injured UCLA safety Tim McAteer, also a San Franciscan, it rapidly brought back memories of how Green, as a junior at Riordan High School, literally took Terra Nova apart in a 1962 Kezar contest.

As it turned out, the Tigers were to go on to their best ever football season, but it took them a while to get over that early-season.

Speaking of breakway threats, incidentally, that's just what Green was as a prepster. He ran the poor Coastside kids ragged that night.

Also a few roses to San Francisco State soccer forward Lew Fraser, who has been selected a first team All America, becoming one more in a long line of State All Americas.

For what it's worth, we've always felt that the Gator booters and their coach, Art Bridgeman, have been among the most undeserving unhearlded figures in western collegiate soccer.

Also a welcome to Phil Dela Fuente and his new Pacifica surf shop, and a New Year whish for good waves.

And much as we detest admitting being scooped by another local weekly we shouldn't allow this column to go by without apologizing that we never realized that Elmer Harris, a former coach of our alma mater, San Francisco's Mission High, is a Pacifica resident.

At 73 Harris is still going strong in athletics, and civic affairs one of his more enjoyable activities being golf instructor (for free) to a woman's golf club.

You're only as old as you admit.

Yes, Yes, and a thanks (we think) to KYA disc jockeys for those platters they dedicated to us over the holidays.

WRITING OF THE ALMA MATER and its old coaches, we note another era has ended with the retirement of veteran Mission coach Lloyd Leith.

One of the finest prep basketball technicians and officials in California, Leith scared, and maybe even offended, a lot of people with an often gruff manner.

But he was the prototype of the barking dog who won't bite, of the good humor hidden beneath the tough exterior.

Whether or not you like him or agreed with him, however, there was probably never a more colorful character in San Francisco prep athletics, never a dull moment in any activity in which Leith participated . . . and sports can always do with that.

Besides, we're prejudiced. Lloyd always claimed this writer's father, Louie, was one of the best athletes he ever coached.

TOURNEY WIN DECISIVE

S.S.F. Is Favored For NPL Title

By JOHN HORGAN

The North Peninsula League's basketball season officially opened today, but any question about who the title favorite ought to be was erased Saturday night.

League play begins at 3 p.m. today as Westmoor visits South S.F., Jefferson hosts Oceana and Terra Nova is at El Camino. Half moon has a first-round bye.

But South San Francisco High School, off its thumping 70-60 victory over Jefferson in the finals of the NPL Basketball Tournament, is now clearly the team to beat.

Westmoor, the host team in the three-night tourney, fell to upstart Terra Nova, 32-31, as the Tigers took third place.

El Camino, hung on to edge Oceana, 57-53, for the fifth spot in the first contest, Half Moon Bay claimed seventh place.

But the biggest thrills, the best basketball and the liveliest action was saved for the ninth and final game of the tournament.

In that one, South San Francisco came within one or two baskets twice during the fray of making it a total rout over the Indians.

Trailing Jeff by two points at the end of the first period, the Warriors, led by silky smooth 6-6 forward Jim Henry, began an offensive assault on the hoop in the second frame that sent Warrior fans into paroxysms of glee.

In one brief three-minute stretch near the close of the second stanza South S.F. outscored its rival by 17-8. And the swift and nimble Henry was the main cog in the free-wheeling S.S.F. blitz.

Plucking of rebounds, whipping passes to his waiting guards and front-liners, nailing soft jumpers from the side, setting up easy lay-ins with some fine ball-handling, the big Warrior cornerman was at his best during their series of plays.

In the first half, Henry tallied 17 points (he ended the game with 23), blocked five shots, gobbled up a dozen of his 16 total rebounds and contributed four assists.

As his coach Bill Purcell put it after the game: "You might say he (Henry) made his presence felt out there tonight."

The Warriors left the court at halftime with a 41-33 lead, despite some good shooting by Willie Redmond and Tom Pritchard of the Indians.

Both lads hit well all night from the outside against the Warriors 1-2-2 zone. Redmond ended with a game-high 25 markers and Pritchard, who was seemingly unstoppable from the dead corner, tanked 11 field goals for 22 digits. But it wasn't enough.

South S.F. just had too much height and muscle for the Indians. S.S.F. controlled the boards by a 39-26 count.

Although some sloppy ball-handling, which resulted in 21 turn-overs, cost the Warriors a bundle of easy baskets, they still managed to hold off another Jeff flurry in the second half.

With 5:39 remaining in the game and the Warriors' lead seemingly safe, Jefferson, behind Redmond and Pritchard, made a final move.

The Indians closed to within four at 58-54 on a 10-foot jumper by Redmond. Then the roof fell in.

Joe Smith hit a lay-up, Greg Jones banked in a 15-footer, and John Moro capped the rally with a pair of foul tosses at 3:41 to jack the lead back up to 10 at 64-54.

Any doubts about the Warriors' superiority were eradicated then and there.

Terra Nova, playing a methodical, slow-down game, "upset" Westmore by refusing to run with them. Only once did the Rams manage an easy fast-break bucket off a TN miscue.

Rich Burt's club, displaying poise on the enemy's home grounds, came from behine with 2:40 remaining on a free toss by Jim Bresnahan, who played for the third night in a row, and a tip-in by Mike Ward.

With :36 left on the clock Mike Kenny hit a free throw which gave the Tigers the lead at 32-30. Westmoor's Ron Heick had a chance to tie the game with :25 remaining but missed the first of a two-shot chance. He made the second. After a rapid exchange of bad passes, Kenny stole the ball from a Westmoor guard and the Tigers stalled out the final seconds. The loss left the once-otent Rams with an 0-8 record.

El Camino, led by Mick Ackley's 18 points managed to hold off Oceana's last ditch stand but came close to losing.

Oceana got 32 points from Jim Varner, John Hollingsworth and Steve Buckley.

Coach Bill Purcell's quick crew ran and shot its way into the once-potent Rams with an invincible Westmoor, 79-43, Friday night.

Jefferson upended Terra Nova 48-37, to reach the title game in the second game Friday.

Oceana nipped Half Moon Bay 42-39, in the night's consolation game.

With Jones canning 23 points, Henry 17 and reserve center Alex Smith, 12, the Warriors ran the Westmoor club right out of its own haunts.

In a devastating third-period display of pressing and running, the visitors from the Industrial City ran up an insurmountable lead and coasted in with their fifth win against two losses this season.

It was strictly no contest from start to finish.

Even when starting center Joe Smith was taken out of the tilt with four fouls in the third period it made little difference.

His sophomore brother Al entered the game and promptly tallied 12 points and gobbled up a bushel of rebounds.

Excellent Warrior board control throughout made things easy. Henry, the 6-6 forward who has yet to find his usual touch from the corners in this tournament, netted 14 caroms to pace all rebounders.

The Indians' Redmond, bucketed 23 points in leading his club into the finals.

Redmond, a 6-2 lefty, was phenomenal from outsdie. At one point in the third period he hit three 20-footers in a row to break open what had been a fairly close contest.

Leading only 18-12 at the half, the Indians of Mike Orlich led by 16 points midway in the fourth period and had little trouble keeping their lead.

Terra Nova's Jim Bresnahan, with 16 markers and some good all-around floor play at both ends of the court, led his club.

The 5-10 junior for Rich Burt's Tigers was the key man in the Pacifica team's game attempt at an upset.

Warriors To Gun For NPL Crown

Henry, Jones Lead S.S.F.

(This is the seventh in a series of articles on North Peninsula League basketball teams and their prospects for the 1965-66 season.)

By JOHN HORGAN

FROM ALMOST every indication the 1965-66 school year in the North Peninsula League will be the year of the Warriors — the South San Francisco High School Warriors.

The NPL basketball race is no exception. The Industrial City Tribe is heavily favored to take another varsity championship. Even in basketball, the Warriors have supplanted Westmoor as the dominant force in the NPL.

A free - wheeling and offense-minded crew, this year's version of the South S.F. cage unit is the strong favorite of every coach in the league to win the crown.

Led by spindle - shanked Jim Henry, a 6-6 center-forward with a feathery touch from the corners, South San Francisco has the best personnel in the circuit.

Greg Jones, 6-1, the fabled All-American football player, is the other forward and is one of the strongest corner men in the North County.

As one coach put it about Jones: "His legs are like tree stumps. He can run and jump all night long. He is one of the most mature high school athletes ever seen in this area."

Center Joe Smith, 6-3, rounds out the powerful Warrior front line. And Smith has proved a revelation. Just as in football, the slim senior has risen from relative obscurity to emerge as one of the most consistent Warrior athletes on a team of consistent players.

Henry, Jones and Smith are all averaging better than 12.0 points per game.

Backing up the first clubbers are: Alex Smith (Joe's sophomore brother), 6-2; Ron Beall, 6-1, and John Majka, 6-1.

Al Smith, in particular, seems destined for big things in the future. He filled in well at center for his brother in the tournament and turned in valuable work at both ends of the court.

But coach Bill Purcell has a couple of nagging problems.

BALL CONTROL mistakes and his backcourt are the two thorns in the side of what might be the best South S.F. basketball season in years.

While Johnny Moro, 5-11, and Mike Martinelli, 5-10, are adequate backcourters, neither is a consistent shooter from the 20-foot range. Both lack a good touch from the outside. Hence, defenses can gang up on the three Warrior big men.

Reserve guard Larry Alsterlind, 5-9, up from the B's, is probably the best outside shooter among the guards, but his lack of experience in running the fast break is just now being corrected.

Kevin Pickett, 6-1, a mainstay last year, has been relegated to third club status, but could find his old hand come league play.

Tom Olmo, 5-7, John Immel, 5-11, Rich Beach, 5-11, and Ron Mazzoncini, 5-9, round a deep guard corps.

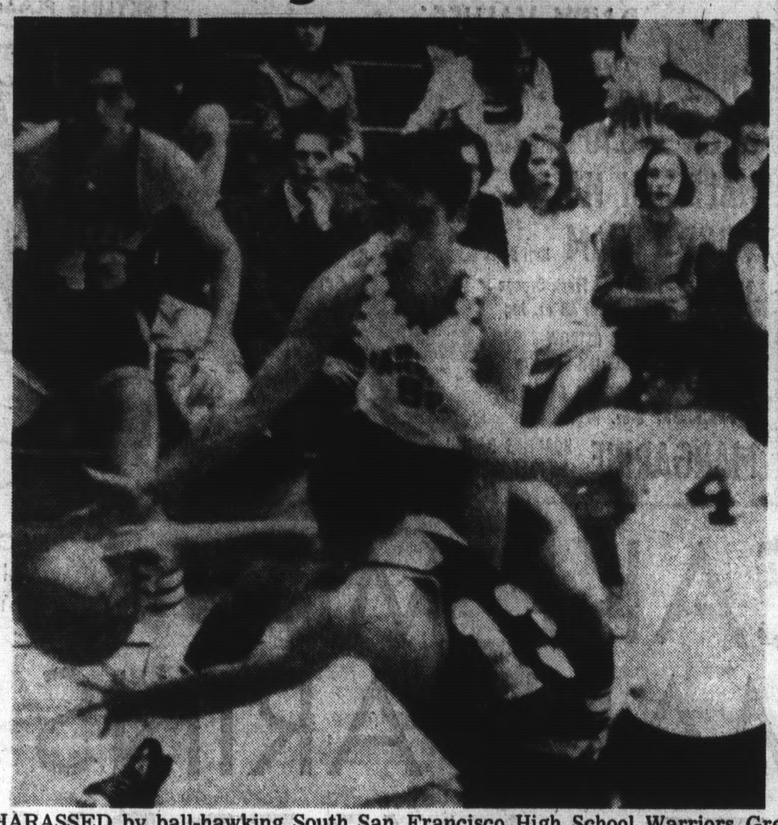
Ball control mistakes have plagued the Warriors all season long.

Even in their win over weak Westmoor in the NPL tournament the Warrior committed 24 turn-overs — but they won by 36 points. Quite a tribute to South San Francisco's rebounding and shooting ability.

However, Purcell, who, in his first year as head coach last season, led his team to 14-7 and 8-2 in season and league marks respectively, knows that the league struggle will hinge on his unit putting together the complete game it is capable of playing.

"I LOOK for Jefferson and El Camino to give us the most trouble," said Purcell last week.

Jeff Cager Is 'Floored'



HARASSED by ball-hawking South San Francisco High School Warriors Greg Jones, 52, and John Moro, right, little George Egan, 13, of Jefferson finds himself on the Westmoor gymnasium floor in last Saturday's championship final in the NPL Tournament. Diminutive George tries to pass out to teammate Tom Pritchard, in the corner, but Jones gets a hand in the way to stop it. SSF won, 70-60. (Norton Pearl Photo by Willie Kee)

Opperman Fares Well In L.A. Open

Although the year is only 10 days old, young Steve Oppermann of South San Francisco has earned $933.34 against one of the toughest pro golf fields ever assembled.

Though Arnie Palmer grabbed the thunder and the lion's share of $11,000 first prize money in the $70,000 Los Angeles Open, young Steve, in a dignified manner, let his elders know that he is a golfer to be reckoned with for the next 355 days.

The former Capuchino High School divoter fasioned out a nifty five-under-par 66 over the Rancho Municipal fairways last week to finish in a tie for 19th place—with a 282 total — nine strokes behind Palmer.

Oppermann, who tied for the opening day lead with a 67, skied to a 78 on the second day for his only bad round of the tournament. His 66 Sunday tied him for low daily honors with another Northern Californian, Champagne Tony Lema. Lema's 66 enabled him to finish one stroke better at 281, and he picked up $1,450.

And Ken Venturi flashed some of his brilliance of yesteryear as he came down the home stretch with a two-under-par 69 for a 284 total. Venturi, who was making his first official appearance on the comeback trail, put together rounds of 71-70-74 and the 69 for the even-par total. His effort was good for $637.

Palmer, who carded a brilliant 62 on Saturday, staggered home with a two-over-par 73 but still managed to win the event.

Going into the final round of the year's first event on the annual PGA run for the riches, Palmer had a seven-stroke lead. He contracted a slight case of the bogeys but hung in there to win by three strokes.

IF YOU ARE ONE of the many, many people who took a few extra moments at Christmas time to send a card or letter to an unknown serviceman in Vietnam you may be interested in a letter received by Mr. and Mrs. Del Mannion of Pacifica from their son, Boyd, currently serving aboard the USS Hancock off the coast of Vietnam.

Young Mannion, who just spent his fourth consecutive Christmas at sea, wrote; "Christmas eve, after church service, hundreds and hundreds of post cards and letters from people back home were handed us, wishing us a Merry Christmas and giving us all words of support, such as, "we care." One was handed to me from a University of Pennsylvania student. The writer wrote 'may you have a wonderful Christmas knowing everyone here is thinking of you and praying for you. Thank you for all you're doing to support and defend our country's ideals'."

Mannion's letter continued, "Everyone of us really were taken by the letters and we are trying to answer them. It is the best morale booster we have had yet!"

According to Mannion things were cheered a little by a troupe of entertainers just prior to Christmas.

"We won't get to see Bob Hope this holiday with his troupe of fabulous people, but about three days ago we were marvelously entertained by Martha Raye. Remember her? She's just as entertaining as ever. We enjoyed her so much. She's going on all the ships over here. She arrived here in October and won't leave until March."

According to Mrs. Mannion, Boyd was due to be discharged some months ago but had his time in service extended during the period of accelerated mobilization. He is now due to be released in April.

Sugar... 'n' Spice

By NELL NORTON

JUST A WEEK AGO I thought I was so tired of fancy cooking that I never again wanted to bake or fix anything more elaborate than hamburgers and frozen french fried potatoes. But that was a week ago, and now I have two delicious recipes that I tried out this week and I'm anxious to share them with you good cooks.

The first recipe is for a savory beef pie. A gourmet dish made from stewing beef. Browned cubes of beef are baked to melting tenderness with delicious vegetables, some sour cream is stirred in for a rich gravy, and the dish is covered with pastry to make this succulent entree. Serve a crisp cabbage and apple salad with this wonderful pie.

SAVORY BEEF PIE

- 1½ pounds lean beef stew meat
- One-third cup sifted flour
- 1½ teaspoon salt
- ¼ teaspoon pepper
- ½ teaspoon dry mustard
- ½ teaspoon paprika
- 2 tablespoon shortening
- 1½ cups red table wine
- 1 (8-ounce) can whole onions
- 1 cup frozen peas
- 2 teaspoon cornstarch
- ½ cup commercial sour cream
- ½ package pastry mix

Cut beef in cubes. Blend flour, salt, pepper, mustard and paprika, and dredge meat with it. Brown slowly in hot shortening. Add wine, heat to boiling, and turn into baking dish.

Cover closely, and bake in slow oven (300 degrees) 1½ to 2 hours, until beef is very tender.

Drain onions, and separate peas (they need not be completely thawed). Stir cornstarch into sour cream. Combine onions, peas and cream with meat, and mix lightly.

Prepare pastry mix according to package directions, and roll to fit top of dish. Cut a few slashes into pastry to allow steam to escape. Fit over top of dish, fluting edge. Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) about 20 to 25 minutes, or until pastry is browned. Serve at once from baking dish. Makes four to six servings.

DURING THE CHRISTMAS holidays my house was cookie heaven. All shapes and varieties of cookies abounded, not only those from my own oven but also delicious treats given by thoughtful friends. My cookie jar runneth over.

But all good things must end. And we finally reached the bottom of the cookie jar this week. And the time has come to light the oven, get out the recipes and mix and fix.

Fortunately for me, the world is full of people who like to bake and like to share their baking talents. Mrs. Helen Fredericks of 632 Newman Drive, South San Francisco, was kind enough to send me this new recipe for cookies which my family found delicious. And I would like to pass it on to you.

SKILLET COOKIES

- 1 cup dates, cut fine
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 1 cube margarine
- 1 egg, well beaten
- 2½ cups rice krispies
- ½ cup nuts, chopped
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- Cocoanut

Combine dates, brown sugar and margarine in skillet. Cook over low flame until smooth. Beat the egg and pour slowly into the heated mixture. Blend well and cook five to eight minutes (six minutes is just about right). Stir in teaspoon vanilla.

Add the rice krispies and nuts and mix well. Cool slightly. Or to be more explicit, cool until you can handle the mixture comfortably. Then roll into small balls, about the size of a walnut, and then roll in flaked cocoanut. Place on cookie sheet to cool. (Since all of my family don't like cocoanut, I rolled some in powdered sugar.) This recipe makes about 4 dozen cookies.

THESE COOKIES are so delicious your family will love them and they will disappear like magic. In order not to have them disappear too fast, I made a batch of old-fashioned oatmeal cookies and was able to put these richer and sweeter cookies as an extra treat in lunches.

OLD-FASHIONED OATMEAL COOKIES

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1½ teaspoon cinnamon
- 2 cups oats, uncooked
- ½ cup brown sugar, firmly packed
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- 1 cup shortening (soft)
- 2 eggs, unbeaten
- One-third cup milk
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1 cup currants
- 1 cup chopped nuts

Sift together flour, soda, salt and cinnamon. Cream shortening; add sugars and cream well. Add eggs and vanilla blend. Add the sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with the one-third cup milk.

Lastly add oats, currants and chopped nuts. Bake in (375-degree) oven about 12 minutes or until browned. Makes about four dozen cookies.

In last week's column, the amount of tomatoes needed in the Green Limas Con Carne Recipe was missing. The amount is two cups.

Marks will also direct the Montara Players' production of the same play one month from now.

Purpose of the play is "to gain attention and to gain new members for the group" says Marks.

Main difference between the two separate productions, according to Marks, will be that Pacifica's play will utilize a minimum of scenery while the Montara showing will feature settings.

Saturday night's Pacifica play will be a one-night stand.

It will be the only production of "No Exit" there this season.

In addition to "No Exit" at Pacifica, Janet Watson will sing folk songs, to her own guitar accompaniment.

The play will share the program at Montara with an original dramatization of the "Dr. Seuss" fantasies. This is being directed by Robert Harris.

Following the ground breaking ceremonies, the families of the congregation will have dinner at the church and later hold their ninth annual congregational meeting.

Westmor Graduate's Talk To Be Aired Over KPFA

A lecture delivered at San Francisco State College by Mrs. Paul A. Schaefer, 1962 graduate of Westmoor High School, will be broadcast over KPFA-FM (94.1) at 8 Tuesday night.

The talk was part of the Associated Students Lecture Series, "To Make a Difference." Title of her presentation is "Beyond Categories."

Mrs. Schaefer, the former Janet Spears, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert J. Spears of 160 Westmoor Avenue, Daly City, was one of 21 students chosen from the student body of 16,000 to participate in the weekly lecture series devoted to exploring student concerns about American culture, politics and education.

She is a junior majoring in social science at the college. She and her husband live in San Francisco.

Also Tuesday, Associated Students President Terry M. McGann will present the 19th lecture in the series at 7:30 p.m. in the Gallery Lounge on the campus. His topic will be "America — Fact or Fantasy?"

McGann, 24, is a graduate student majoring in speech. He and his wife, Sue, live at 1525 Sullivan Avenue, Colma.

KPFA will broadcast McGann's speech later this year.

Purpose of the lecture-discussion series is to further understanding between students and the larger community by providing informal occasions for a frank exchange of views.

The assumption underlying the series is that such understanding is essential if the current intellectual and moral ferment among student youth is to remain constructive and if the most is to be made of their potentially creative contributions to the shaping of America's future.

Vandals slashed the screen last Tuesday at the Serra Movie at 90th Street and Junipero Serra Boulevard in Daly City for the second time within a week, forcing the theater to close for repairs.

The vandals scattered ashes and debris from two large urns around the theater in addition to slashing the screen.

Investigators said the vandals may have entered the theater during the time deliveries were being made to the theater yesterday.

Howard Naify of San Mateo, manager of the theater, said several large holes had been torn in the screen, making it unusable.

COMMENT

Renewed Hope For Watershed

AFTER YEARS of ignoring the potentialities of one of its greatest assets, the city of San Francisco is, at last, proposing to explore both recreational and commercial possibilities of the huge Crystal Springs watershed area, the largest single parcel of real estate in San Mateo County.

Credit for this long overdue awakening goes to dynamic manager James Carr of the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission who obtained agreement of the commission on a projected study of water needs and of use of the watershed lands.

The proposal for the study must yet pass the sometimes stubborn hurdle of the San Francisco supervisors and will have to be placed before that body by San Francisco Mayor John Shelley.

The favorable reception of this plan by the supervisors could augur well for an improvement in relations between San Mateo and San Francisco counties. This could come about because a fair study of the practical use of the watershed area might well eliminate a very large, and very old, bone of contention between the two counties.

FOR SCORES of years, San Francisco has attached a know-nothing sacro-sanctity to the watershed holdings while, at the same time, bitterly complaining of San Mateo County's taxation of the property. San Mateo County, in turn, has objected to the withholding from recreational use the beautifully scenic watershed area and the freezing of portions of it in the lowest grade of unimproved tax roll status.

The very heartland of San Mateo County, as this newspaper has so often pointed out, has been kept in a state of static idleness.

A fair and businesslike study of the land use potentials could point the way to mutual advantage for both counties. It could result in a guide to preserving the scenic beauty of the watershed area and its utilization for safe recreation purposes.

It could result in the improvement of large areas of property not essentially vital to the operation of the water system, providing San Francisco with income from sales and rentals while at the same time bolstering the tax rolls of San Mateo County.

NOT THE LEAST of the advantages to be obtained is that of a reasonable rapprochement between San Francisco and San Mateo counties—a recognition of mutual interests that might be extended beyond the sole matter of the use of the watershed area.

Utilities manager Carr, if his program of study is carried through, will have achieved not only a most useful end — he will have achieved something of a triumph in diplomacy.

Auto Doomsday On the Way?

Don Miller

A PREDICTION the other day that Southern California would have some 15 million automobiles by the turn of the century got us to thinking what a first rate calamity that state of affairs will be.

This is to say, if people continue to behave as badly behind the wheel as they do now and if the progression of this behavior from bad to worse continues at its present rate, not only the Southland but the Bay Area as well will be an automotive nightmare.

It's often been said that the behavior of homo sapiens undergoes a remarkable and as yet not fully explained change once man slides in behind the wheel of his auto.

That well-mannered guy or the considerate gal you all know discard their easy-going natures for downright belligerent demeanors once they become motorists.

The auto has become the means to express a potpurri of emotions, most of them—it appears—of the violent sort—and as a result we have examples of human nature at its very worst—like the drunken driver, the horn-leaner, the lane-changer, the tail-gater and so on—the list is depressingly long.

IN THE BAY AREA in recent years, we have noticed the growing "popularity" of a macabre little game that might be called "Go on Red Instead of Green."

The red signal long ago became an international command to stop. However, in the local environs, many motorists must be tiring of such a command, for they blithely sail through red lights these days as if the signals did not exist at all.

It used to be that you could be almost certain that all the cross traffic had halted once the light had turned green and you could then safely proceed. But that was yesteryear. Nowadays, he who fails to wait a few long moments after the light changes is apt to find himself faced with the chilling sight of a bumper bearing down on him at high speed.

The ironic aspect of this—and we've seen the rony too many times to believe otherwise—is that the people who moan about signal-jumpers and what they claim is the lack of adequate police surveillance are the same people who will give a quick glance in the rear view mirror and then scoot through a changing light to save time.

ANOTHER lamentable shortcoming in the motoring behavior of the general public that is on the rise is the art of gawking at everything from a well-turned ankle to the price of oranges advertised in a supermarket window.

People don't drive these days. They leer, gawk, peer, stare, watch, ogle and gaze while incidentally operating their cars. The end product of this activity can range all the way from a tragic accident to a miles-long jam on a freeway, caused by drivers rubbernecking at a mishap along the way.

We've all been involved in this rubbernecking phenomenon and being human, we're just as guilty as the rest when our auto draws abreast of the pile of twisted metal along the roadside and we, too, slow to a crawl to see what had happened.

Police accident reports are full of motorists saying they didn't see the curve, they didn't see the car backing out, they didn't see the 35-mile-an-hour sign, they didn't see the right lane, right turn only arrow. They didn't because they were too busy watching something—or somebody—else.

It's a good thing televison sets were banned from dashboards and front seat areas for things are bad enough without inviting Marshal Dillon, Cheyenne, Phyllis Diller, Superman, et al, along for the ride.

ON WHAT you might call the Golden Rule Scoreboard, things also are pretty grim. We're thinking here of another growing band of drivers who seem to believe that getting away from the scene of a fender-denting sortie before the owner of the wounded car can respond or before a witness can take a license number is jolly good sport. Some sport!

Not too many days can go by these days before we find another nick or dent or scratch in our cars and, of course, no sign of a note from the offending party.

When you think of it for a moment, it's simple to open a car door carefully so that it doesn't touch or bump the auto parked nearby. Yet, the percentage of people who think this way is on an elevator going down.

In fact, some car doors and fenders have so many nicks and scrapes that if you didn't know better, you'd swear auto manufacturers had come up with a new scatter paint style

Someday, somebody's going to invent a clever gadget that will sound a horn or activate a whistle when a car is banged by the door of another and maybe then we'll return to those good old days when motorists treated other cars as if they were their own.

PERHAPS the aspect of present-day motoring that disturbs us most is the declining degree of courtesy that motorists show fellow motorists in traffic.

It's increasingly a case of "me first, you'll have to wait" or "I can't be bothered with your troubles, just get out of my way."

Patience is said to be a virtue, and alas, it's just about extinct on the highways today. It's the old story of hurry up and wait. Joe Gaspedal knows the signals are synchronized in progression but he still guns it when the light turns green and has to stop again for the next one.

Maybe the solution is a mandatory class in automotive manners and a system of fines for courtesy violators.

Whatever the answer, something's got to happen. If driving is mayhem today, wait until tomorrow. That 15-million-car prediction for the Southland isn't scary—it's like the first bulletin announcing doomsday.

Better Business

Antique Phones Need Approval

Lorene Beasley

BEAUTIFUL, antique French style telephones again were very popular Christmas gifts this year. They were less expensive this holiday season but remain as illegal for use on any telephone subscriber's premises.

Misleading advertising in newspaper supplements and in other publications that imply that ingenious devices would fit all phones, outdoor phone jacks and "completely rebuilt, refinished and restored to new working condition, genuine and original antique French telephones from Copenhagen" has resulted in a rash of inquiries to the Better Business Bureau.

Such phones have been advertised the year 'round as "ready for use," "complete with dial," "able to be used as a primary phone or as an extension that can be plugged into any jack outlet.'

The Pacific Telephone Company, after checking one Christmas gift French phone, branded it as not workable on any phone system.

IN ANSWER to customers who have questions regarding the purchase and connection of their own telephones and related equipment, National Better Business Bureau reports "telephone company tariffs prohibit the connection of devices and exchange voice networks unless they are installed, furnished and maintained by the telephone companies.

"Under both federal and state laws, these tariff provisions on file with regulatory agencies are binding on both the telephone companies and their customers and govern the basic relationship between them."

In this area, Pacific Telephone states: "No equipment, apparatus, circuit or device not furnished by the Pacific Telephone Company shall be attached to or connected with the facilities furnished by the Company, whether physically, by induction or otherwise, except as provided in the tariffs.

"In case any such unauthorized attachment or connection is made, the Company has the right to remove or disconnect the same; or to suspend the service during the continuance of said attachment or connection or to terminate the service."

THIS REGULATION has been in the tariffs which govern the major telephone companies for many years and there are practical reasons for such a regulation.

Each customer's telephone equipment, unlike the equipment used with other utility services, is a part of and connected to a complex nationwide telephone network.

This nationwide telephone system depends on uniform equipment, engineering and maintenance. Customer-owned equipment would vary widely in compatibility and quality.

Any such faulty equipment and any defects could cause service difficulties resulting in poor service for other subscribers as well as for the person using the faulty equipment.

Improperly designed or installed equipment can cause electrical hazards to the customer and to telephone employes.

SEVERAL MONTHS ago 130 Swedish-designed Ericofons were approved for use by the State Public Utilities Commission in Doctors General Hospital in San Jose.

The ruling applies only to this hospital. Telephone users in some areas not serviced by Pacific Telephone are able to get the slim, one-piece Swedish telephone, which is widely used in Europe, Canada, South America and Australia.

What do you do with that French phone Christmas gift? It should be taken to the San Francisco office of the Pacific Telephone Company to be checked over as to whether it meets its requirements.

If it does not, it can be converted by the telephone company but Better Business Bureau warns you — a conversion job can run as high as seventy dollars!

The Marquee

Where Have They Gone?

Barbara Bladen

WHERE HAVE all the theatres gone? The Playhouse at Beach and Hyde Streets in San Francisco where Kermit Sheets, Janes Steckle, the plays of Gertrude Stein and James Broughton kept the wolf from the door for more than 15 years, is scheduled to be razed for a hamburger depot.

Across town on lower Van Ness Avenue, the Opera Ring is reportedly ready to throw in the towel, the crying towel, no doubt. Irma Kay, the founder and producer, feels the competition from the Peninsula musical houses too strongly to buck the outgoing tide. The latter being the theater-going public speeding their way down Bayshore Highway to the Circle Star Theatre and the late departed and lamented Hyatt Music Theatre.

Same old story, same old cry. We're losing theatres and other cities are gaining them. Sob.

A 24-STORY, $24-million building in which an $8-million playhouse will be integrated will be built adjacent to Century City in Beverly Hills. The 2,600-seat proscenium house will be named the Cole Porter Theatre. Building and theatre were designed by Welton Becket and Associates. Construction will begin in June of this year. First production will open January 15, 1968.

Plan is to transport proven Broadway hits to Los Angeles, their worth to be determined, not by advance sale, but by box office activity after the show has opened for approximately a three-month period.

Musicals will head the programming, with legitimate shows also scheduled. Scheduled for 16-and 20-week engagements, the theatre will be occupied 52 weeks of the year. Rehearsals will take place simultaneously with the current production, on a stage built to the exact dimensions as the main house. Half the seats can be closed off for intimate staging.

THE UNIVERSITY of California has begun construction of a new auditorium-theater at the Berkeley campus. A 2,000-seat auditorium that can accommodate concerts, ballet and opera, and a multiform theater seating about 500 persons will be located in Union Field, formerly an intramural games area just east of Harmon Gymnasium.

The Greek Theatre in Los Angeles will have a $500,000 face-lifting, including the installation of new lights, seats and an enlarged parking area.

THINK TWICE before you call and ask me what's playing at New York theatres when you get ready to plan your trip east. The 54th Street Theatre is still there, but it's now called the George Abbott.

Old-timers used to reminisce about the great days of the Palace Theatre which opened in 1913 with Ed Wynn on the bill. Sarah Bernhardt was one of its biggest stars. She reportedly got $500 in gold at the end of each night's performance.

The Book Shelf

Best Sellers In 966 A.D.

Samuel Chandler

A THOUSAND years ago, in 966 and there about, the best sellers were gory tales of heroes who tested their goodness and their courage against villains who upset the drinking and the games in the great halls and even killed their adversaries while frightened thanes cowered in the corners.

No one was expected to read these stories. Instead, the auditors sat in comfortable places while professional singers and storytellers entertained them.

Very few people could read. Most of those who could lived in cloistered halls and copied old manuscripts. Some of these were philosophers and holy men who—as Jenkin Lloyd Jones observed in a recent newspaper — "looked forward eagerly to the last day of the year 1000 when the Millennium would come, and the world would end."

SOME OF THE people who could read and many of the troubadors who entertained the kings and the masses with hero tales were malcontents who found civilization unbearable. Everywhere they found sadness and tragedy. They called the world a jungle and found strange meanings in the howling of a dog and the entrails of an owl.

The common people cared less. They worked for what ever ruler controlled the land and felt lucky to possess a crust of bread and a mat. Some were slaves—many were the pawns of war.

In England, a king named Eadgar and a leader named Dunstan recognized in some of the hero tales wisdom and beauty that should be preserved. So they had them recorded. Their versions were rough, but good enough to inspire future writers to set them to poetry.

These tales tell us of men and women who acted very much as we do today. Although their culture was so crude they were little more than savages, the people of 966 sought for a remedy for their misfortunes. They were weary of war, sick of the conquests of the Danes and the Northmen, the poor were willing to serve anybody who would establish security.

THIS LONGING for peace accounts for the popularity of the Voluspa, a continuous story that the troubadors carried from one great hall to another. It is a prophecy of a sibyl named Volva who sat on a high seat and told the god, Odin, of the world as it was in the beginning. She sang of the creation of men and giants and dwarfs. At the end, she warns that the world is spinning towards a sad ending lest men clear away the chaos of the day.

Perhaps the most famous story of 1,000 years ago told of a chieftain named Hrothgar who had built a hall of entertainment for his Thanes.

Many scholars think the story is a symbolic account of the freeing of the great halls of some pestilence, perhaps malaria, that had been carrying off the king's men. A hero conquers a monster by draining and clearing up marsh lands.

Maybe so—it is full of hope—full of longing for a better world. In it, Beowulf is the embodiment of virtue, the symbol of courage and greatness. In his example, the Thanes found the courage they needed to fight their enemies.

Either in King Eadgar's day or before, the story was composed in Anglo-Saxon alliterative verse. The copy we have today is kept in the British Royal Museum in London.

There, also are kept other stories of the wild, savage world of the tenth century when a new influence, Christianity, told men that peace was attainable and savagery need not last forever.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

My sincere congratulations go to Henry G. Nieboldt of 70 Baldwin Avenue, Daly City, for a very remarkable story that appeared in The Post (Wednesday, January 5) on the late George C. Brenner.

We old-timers who on many occasions had the pleasure of working with George will always remember his determination and tireless efforts in bringing about and promoting the Daly City Band.

Yes, it's so very true that he brought a world of friends and publicity to Daly City by taking the band on standing invitations to the Napa County Fair and the Shrine East-West game each year.

Mr. Nieboldt, many of us old-timers share with you the memory of George C. Brenner.

We agree that Daly City has lost a very devoted citizen.

Making It Official

MACY'S PRESIDENT Ernest L. Molloy, seated, accepts pen to sign a lease for a new Macy outlet in the Serramonte Shopping Center, now under construction. Handing him the pen is William F. Morton, executive vice president of Suburban Realty Company.

Macy's Signs Lease For New Store in Serramonte

A ground lease was executed last week that will bring Macy's into the Serramonte regional shopping center as one of the major tenant stores.

Ernest L. Molloy, president of Macy's California, signed for the retail firm and William F. Morton, executive vice president of Suburban Realty Company, developers of Serramonte, represented the center.

Macy's expects to begin construction early in 1967 of a three level full department store, facing into an enclosed, air-conditioned central shopping mall.

The building, of 210,000 square feet, will be designed by John S. Bolles with interiors by Store Planning Associates.

It will be engineered to permit future expansion as customer traffic demands.

The total development of Serramonte covers approximately 1,000 acres, on land which formerly was the old Christian dairy ranch in what is now Daly City.

Serramonte's borders extend from Skyline Boulevard on the west to the new Junipero Serra freeway on the east.

In addition to the regional shopping center of 750,000 square feet, Serramonte will be a complete new community of apartments, homes, schools, office buildings, and parkways, officials say.

Girl Tumbles, Breaks Ankle

A 12-year-old Daly City girl, jumping over puddles in a school play yard, fell and fractured her left ankle in three places shortly before 3 p.m. Thursday.

The girl, Candace Calvin of 41 Tarawa Road, was given emergency treatment at the Naval Dispensary in San Francisco and was transferred to Letterman General Hospital at the Presidio.

The girl is a sixth grade student at Garnet Robertson School in the Bayshore area of Daly City. School officials said she had been wearing new shoes. She fell on the school volleyball court.

SCHOOL ELECTION

Rough Going Is Seen for Bonds

The January 25 joint bond election in the Jefferson Elementary and High School Districts faces rough going, the superintendent of the high school district told the Daly City Rotary Club last week.

Edward Morgan told club members at their weekly luncheon in the Friar Room of Serra Bowl that the county reassessment of property last year and resulting higher taxes have prompted a negative feeling on the part of many residents.

"There is a feeling on the part of many, many homeowners that they've had it," Morgan declared. "I don't believe it's an anti-school attitude — it just seems to be a general attitude."

The high school district is seeking approval of a $10-million issue and the elementary district is seeking approval of a $3-million issue.

Proceeds of both would be used to finance the construction of new facilities to meet what both districts say will be a rapidly-expanding enrollment in coming years.

Morgan said passage of both bond issues would not mean an increase in the districts' tax rates.

Defeat of the elementary bond issue, however, would mean an average increse in the elemementary tax rate of from 10 to 20 cents per $100 of assessed valuateion, he explained.

Defeat of the high school issue would not effect the tax rate.

However, he warned that failure of the issue would mean that students in the four schools of the Jefferson High School District would have to go on double sessions by 1968

Officials of the elementary school district have warned of half-day sessions within four years if the district's bond proposal fails to win approval.

Morgan delivered his talk as an impromptu speech after the scheduled speaker informed club officials he would not be able to attend.

In a companion extemporaneous speech, accountant Albert Belotz observed that taxpayers could expect an increase in the frequency of audits of their federal income tax returns in coming years.

He said the Internal Revenue Service has been hiring more agents.

Belotz also noted that because of the rapid growth of electronic bookkeeping and reocrd storage, each taxpeyer's income tax form will stored in its entirety on tape by 1967.

Coast Pupils Are Hit By New 'Mania'

Laguna Salada School District children have apparently become enveloped in "button mania."

According to a press release from the school district's office, "many students recently shocked parents as well as teachers and fellow classmates when they returned from a study field trip sporting USSR buttons."

Five classes of children, four from Cabrillo, and one from Pacific Heights, accompanied by their teachers and by parents, toured the Russian Children's Art Exhibit in San Francisco recently.

At the exhibition, children were presented buttons with the USSR insignia on them, and proudly added the buttons to their already growing collection that promotes everything from "Mary Poppins for President" to "I Love Spinach."

Included in the Russian Art Exhibit were craft displays, as well as various forms of art.

'65 Operation Santa Claus Is 'Success'

Operation Santa Claus, the annual Daly City effort of good will and charity for the poor of the city, was a "tremendous success," according to Peter Markovich, co-chairman of the drive.

The drive, which is in its fourteenth year, helped 107 families this past Yule season, according to Markovich.

Canned goods, turkeys, chickens, wheel toys and small toys, were distributed to the city's needy by hundreds of volunteers.

Twenty-two civic, fraternal and religious organizations took part in the charitable drive.

Markovich reported that over $1,500 was raised to pay for the Christmas gifts.

The final tally on goods distributed included: 7,600 canned goods; 34 wheel toys (repaired by the city's firemen); 396 small toys (bought at cost at J. C. Penney's); 91 turkeys and 16 chickens.

Markovich thanked the 22 organizations for their time and work.

Bus System Is a Success

The charter bus system for Daly City students at the College of San Mateo has been proven to be a success, according to Mrs. Roy Milton and Mrs. Richard Powell, organizers of the system.

The women report that schedules are being readied for next semester.

Students may sign up for the new Daly City schedule in Dean William Walsh's office on the campus or telephone Mrs. Milton at PL 6-1378.

The commute fare is $7 per month.

CASH STOLEN

Officials of the Vista Mar Riding Academy at 2152 Skyline Boulevard reported to Daly City police last week that $90 had been stolen from the academy's bunkhouse.

HUB CAPS STOLEN

Claude Hood of 431 Skyline Drive, Daly City, reported to police last week that four hub caps had been stolen from his auto, parked in front of his house.

School Bus Rolls Over Girl's Foot

An eight-year-old Daly City girl suffered a fractured ankle last Tuesday when she slipped beneath the front wheels of a slowly moving school bus in front of 218 Palisades Drive in Daly City.

The youngster, Lisa Ann Johnson of 217 Palisades, was given emergency treatment at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in South San Francisco and then transferred to Kaiser in San Francisco.

The driver of the bus, John M. Cook, 54, of 75 Poncetta Drive, Daly City, told police the child had dashed into the path of his bus and when she tried to stop, she fell and slipped beneath the front wheels. Cook said he then backed the bus off the girl's left foot.

Theft Loss Is $1,880

Two Daly City residents reported to police last Tuesday that jewelry valued at a total of $1,880 had been lost or stolen.

Leslie Wolseth of 269 Oakridge Drive reported that he had lost or misplaced a set of rings, valued at $1,700.

Laura Engeran of 576 Hanover Street reported that thieves had stolen a three-foot gold chain, a gold watch and a silver ring, valued at a total of $180.

TV SET TAKEN

Officials of Wells Television of San Francisco reported to police last week that a television set had been stolen from the eighth floor of Mary's Help Hospital. The set was valued at $100, the company said.

A Look Into the Future

This is an artist's concept of the fare collection facilities being planned for the Bay Area Rapid Transit (BART) system, which will include an end-of-the-line station in Daly City. An automatic fare collection operation will feature currency change-making machines and ticket vending machines for both single-trip riders and commuters, utilizing magnetically coded tickets that can be automatically tabulated at passenger gates. Other features will include electronic train arrival and destination indicators and closed-circuit television cameras (right upper foreground) to provide for improved station operations and safety.

CSM Mixup May Lead To Some 1-A Draft Listings

A technical mixup in the filing of "109" forms for College of San Mateo students seeking student deferments from the draft, may have resulted in some students being reclassified 1-A by the San Mateo County Selective Service Board.

William J. Walsh, dean of men at the college, explained that the difficulties arose from the registration procedures in effect last August.

As male students registered for classes, the "109" forms were filled out and immediately filed with the Selective Service Board.

The board soon complained, however, that the forms had been filed too soon as the students seeking deferments had actually reported to classes, which began in September.

At the board's request, the college agreed to file duplicate "109" forms after the students actually begun attending the college.

"We're uneasy that some were missed in the duplicate filing," Walsh said.

He noted that this could have happened because of the large number of students being enrolled.

The Selective Service Board has informed him, the dean of men said, that a student who has been reclassified 1-A but is a full-time student carrying 12 hours or more of courses and is making satisfactory progress may appeal to the board for deferment.

Dinners of Protein-Rich California Beef Are Economical, Interesting and Tasty

These three entrees featuring different cuts of beef round are economical, interesting and tasty.

Round steak comes from the hind leg of the beef, with top round being leaner and more tender than bottom round. Top round is suitable for broiling and pan frying while bottom round is appropriate for stew, roasts and swiss steak.

Satisfy hearty appetites with a warm and bubbling beef casserole loaded with succulent California grown beef. Simmer sandsomely browned cubes or bottom round in a savory mushroom and wine sauce. A selected array of seasonings adds an extra special touch. To colorfully round out the meal accompany with rice, green salad and cheese for dessert.

Another way with round steak is an exotic Far Eastern dish. First make a delicate sweet 'n' sour sauce. Meanwhile broil top round steak to desired degree of doneness and cut into strips. Then crown a delicious mound of zesty rice with the saucy steak. Pass condiments of sliced green onions, kumquats and toasted coconut chips for that final dash of elegance.

Matambre, Argentine stuffed steak roll, is a third way of serving versatile round steak. Fill a juicy piece of beef with a variety of vegetables, eggs and pimiento. Grill for 1½ hours. Serve with a simple spicy gravy for a surprising treat.

BOTTOM ROUND BOURGUIGNON

. . . a breeze to put together. Allow plenty of time to simmer to properly enhance the flavor.

1½ pounds bottom round steak
¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons cooking oil
Water
1 (10½ ounce) can beef consomme
2 tablespoons instant minced onion
½ bay leaf
¼ teaspoon fines herbes
¼ teaspoon savory
¼ cup sliced celery
½ pound sliced mushrooms
¼ cup red wine

Cut beef into 1-inch cubes. Roll in flour mixed with salt and pepper; reserve seasoned flour. Brown beef in hot oil. Add 1 cup water, consomme, onion, bay leaf, fines herbes and savory. Cover; simmer 1½ hours or until tender, adding more water if necessary. Combine 2 tablespoons reserved seasoned flour with 2 tablespoons cold water. Add to beef stirring constantly until slightly thickened. Add celery, mushrooms and wine. Cover and cook 15 minutes. Makes 6 servings.

SAUCY TOP ROUND STEAK

Plan a colorful green salad to go with this unusual beef entree.

1 (10½ ounce) can beef bouillon
1 (3-ounce) can broiled mushroom crowns
1/3 cup chopped green onions
3 tablespoons wine vinegar
2½ tablespoons cornstarch
1 teaspoon soy sauce
1 tablespoon sugar
⅛ teaspoon garlic powder
1½ pounds California top beef round (1-inch thick)
Savory Rice

Combine oil ingredients except beef and Savory Rice. Simmer over moderate heat until clear and thickened. Broil beef to desired degree of doneness; cut into strips. Add to sauce. Serve over mounds of Savory Rice. Accompany with sliced green onions, preserved kumquats and toasted coconut chips, as desired. Makes 4 servings.

SAVORY RICE: Combine 1 cup rice, 2 cups bouillon and 1 teaspoon salt; heat to boiling. Cover and cook over low heat 20 to 25 minutes until liquid is absorbed. Fluff rice with fork; add 3 tablespoons EACH chopped pimiento and chopped parsley.

MATAMBRE
(Argentine Stuffed Steak Roll)

Garnish with parsley and carry to the table on a handsome platter before cutting. Your family will rave about this spectacular foreign oriented roll.

2 pounds round steak (½-inch thick)
1 (10-ounce) package frozen mixed vegetables
½ cup diced celery
½ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter
½ teaspoon salt
½ cup water
Milk
2 cups soft whole wheat bread crumbs (4 slices)
½ cup bottled barbecue sauce
2 hard cooked eggs
1 (4-ounce) can chopped pimiento
Salt
Spicy Brown gravy

Have butcher split steak butterfly fashion and pound to make evenly thin. Combine vegetables, butter, salt and water. Cover; boil 10 minutes. Drain and measure liquid; add enough milk to make ½ cup, pour over bread crumbs, tossing to moisten. Lay steak flat; brush with 2 tablespoon barbecue sauce. Spread crumbs over steak leaving 1-inch around edges; top with vegetables, diced eggs and pimiento. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Starting at long side, roll up tightly, tucking in any loose stuffing; tie with strong white string every 2 inches. Place steak roll on grill over hot coals. Turn every 10 to 15 minutes for 1 hour. Brush with barbecue sauce. Continue grilling, basting every 10 minutes with sauce, 30 minutes longer or until meat is tender. Cut into 1-nch slices. Serve with Spicy Brown Gravy. Makes 6 servings.

SPICY BROWN GRAVY: Combine 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup, ½ cup water, 1 tablespoon bottled barbecue sauce and 1 teaspoon bottled browning sauce. Heat slowly until bubbly, stirring constantly. Makes about 1¾ cups.

Roast Beef Now In Pear-Shaped Can

CHICAGO—Wilson and Company, Inc., is now marketing a unique new product, roast beef in a can—Wilson's "Certified Tender Made" beef. "It is the first time that roast beef has ever been successfully packaged in a pear-shaped can," said Silas F. Peterson, manager of the Wilson canned ham department.

The Wilson ham division which developed the company's extensive line of canned hams, worked for 11 years to produce the new canned roast beef product. Objective of the Wilson research and product development program was the attainment of a convenient food product that rivals in taste and quality the most savor home-cooked beef roast, yet has all the convenience of a canned food.

The research which went into the problems of canning roast beef has produced an all-lean roast which is extremely tender. "Our food technology specialists have utilized a cooking process which retains all the natural juices formed as the meat cooks," Peterson explained, "and the consumer receives delicious beef in natural beef juices preserved to the peak of taste appeal."

Wilson's "Tender Made" roast beef is packed in the familiar Wilson pear-shaped can in one pound and one pound, 14 ounzes sizes. Like Wilson's canned hams, it carries the marketing colors of red and white, and the company's "Certified" brand seal of top quality.

"We feel that we have made a real contribution to the food processing field," Peterson stated. "It's a solid piece of beef ready to eat cold in only the time it takes to open the can and slice it, or hot roast beef or hot beef sandwiches can be prepared in 10 to 15 minutes. This is convenience plus, for the busy American consumer."

Peterson reported that the new roast beef has been test marketed in four markets. He said 100 per cent distribution was effected in three months in those markets.

In addition to complete national market coverage with the promotional materials, Wilson will introduce and advertise the project with an advertising campaign in leading women's and consumer magazines.

TWO STRIKES and other labor troubles are holding up production at STIMAX, TN's on-campus company,

STIMAX Management returned from Christmas vacation last week to be plagued by a joint strike of the Labor and Technicians unions, which began striking before vacation.

Labor's reasons for striking were because they felt a Labor employe had been unfairly fired, and because they wanted more say in company matters. They demanded a representative at management meetings and a pay raise from $1.25 per hour to $1.50.

Technicians joined the strike demanding a pay raise from $1.50 to $1.75 and raises equal to labor's each time they receive one, and a representative at Management meetings. They also claimed mistreatment from Management.

The strike, which was given front-page coverage by a local paper, was stopped last Thursday by company advisor Steve Scheppler, who serves as government. Basing his intervention on the Taft-Hartley Act (Labor-Management Relations Act of 1947), Scheppler stopped the strike claiming it was effecting national economy.

THE STRIKERS and management had decided to settle through arbitration when Labor and the technicians force quit STIMAX planning to form a company of their own.

As of now, it is said the name of the planned company will be LATIMAX, Labor and Technicians In Making An X.

Scheppler, the wood shop instructor who originated the idea of forming STIMAX, apparently approved of the turn of events.

THE GOAL he is trying to achieve through this method of instruction is to give his students a realistic taste of life.

As Scheppler said, "I'm for this forming of two competing companies from an educational standpoint. I've been teaching these boys about industry and the structuring of a company and now here is a chance to see how well they can adopt this knowledge in developing another company."

The other parties involved were not available for their opinions on the situation.

3 Activities Are Set By Teen Clubs

This weekend's activities of the junior teen clubs sponsored by the Daly City Recreation Department include ice skating, bowling and a dance.

The Bovines will go to Sutro's ice skating rink Friday to try their skill on the ice.

Members and their guests will leave Bayshore School at 7 p.m. for two and one-half hours of skating at Sutro's and will return to Bayshore School at approximately 10:30 p.m.

Cost of the activity is $1 for members and $1.25 for guests.

The Roof Raisers will go to Serra Bowl Friday evening and then return to Pauline Brown School for a dance afterwards.

Members and guests are to meet at Serra Bowl at 5:15 p.m.; bowling will be from 5:30 to 7:15, followed by the dance at their club meeting site until 9 p.m.

Cost of the event is $1 for members and $1.25 for guests; dress will be school clothes.

The Know Names will hold their regular monthly dance at Westlake Park Clubhouse from 7 to 9 p.m. on Friday evening.

Members are reminded that if they wish to bring a guest, the guest ticket must be purchased in advance.

"DENTAL HEALTH FACTS"

What is malocclusion?

Malocclusion is irregularity of tooth position and poor fitting together of the teeth on closing the jaws. Such irregularity not only may interfere with chewing and with speech but also may lead to disease of the gums and other supporting structures of the teeth (periodontal disease). Malocclusion may also produce deformities of the face. Ask your Dentist about malocclusion and its treatment if needed.

Dr. Campbell tries to limit the practice to the making of dental plates, partial plates, removable bridges and extractions for same; however, he recommends that you see your dentist at least twice a year in order to help prolong the use of your natural teeth as even the beautiful modern dentures are not as efficient as healthy, natural teeth.

Samaritan Act Leads To Robbery

Apparently it's open season on Daly City gasoline service stations.

Johnny's Shell Station at Geneva Avenue and Schwerin Street, robbed at gunpoint of $60 Saturday morning, was the latest robbery victim—it marked the third such incident in 11 days in Daly City.

Jesse Kasper, 20, of 382 Hillside Boulevard, Daly City, was the attendant on duty at 5:20 a.m. at the all-night station (the first week the station had been open on a 24-hour basis) when a man requested help to get his stalled automobile running.

Kasper aided the man by pushing the car through the station onto the street.

When the car finally ran again, the man drove back into the station, displayed a small revolver and said, "I want all of your money. Don't try anything funny or I'll kill you."

As Kasper opened the cash box on the middle "island" at the station, the robber told him, "I want just the bills."

After Kasper had handed the robber the money, the bandit told the attendant to "get into the car and drive."

Kasper drove the car approximately one mile to the intersection of Sunnydale Avenue and Bayshore Boulevard and was released without being harmed.

He then walked back to the station and telephoned police. The suspect drove north on Bayshore.

The car was a blue and white Ford with a battered right front end, which had been reported stolen in San Francisco. The man was six-feet, one-inch tall and weighed about 180 pounds, Kasper said.

He said the man was quiet and didn't talk on the drive.

Two More Sentenced In Burglary

Two more members of the gang that pulled off the celebrated gold theft in South San Francisco last August, both of them admitted professional burglars, were sentenced last week to 1-to-15-year terms in state prison.

Arthur L. Cornuelle, 44, of San Anselmo, and Paul P. Eipp, 38, of Rohnert Park, both of whom pleaded guilty to charges of second-degree burglary, admitted to probation officer H. R. Faber that they had been hired for $15,000 each for the South San Francisco job.

The defendants said it was expected that between $80,000 and $100,000 in pure gold would be obtained in the theft at the Wildberg Bros. Smelting Company. The take was only $47,500, however, and all but $14,000 of that was subsequently recovered by police.

The first member of the gang to go to prison was Emilio Paul Paoletti, 60-year-old San Francisco bartender. He also pleaded guilty.

The fourth accused member, Guido G. Mastronardi, 35, of Santa Monica, is scheduled to stand trial February 7.

CHANGE STOLEN

Officials of Service Distributors of San Francisco reported to police last week that thieves had stolen cash from coin boxes on a washer-dryer at 1260 Edgeworth Street in Daly City.

$17-Million Is Visitor Outlay

More than two million visitors spent a total of $17,402,105 in San Mateo County during the six-month period between May and October, 1965, the Covention and Visitors Bureau reported last week.

KEYS STOLEN

Dave Del Grande of 124 Bruno Avenue, Daly City, reported to police last week that 25 to 30 vending machine keys had been stolen from a van truck, parked in his carport.

Bicyclist Hit by Car

An 11-year-old Daly City boy suffered cuts and scratches on his nose and lips when his bicycle and an auto collided at Acton and Bellevue Avenues in Daly City about 3:35 p.m. last Tuesday.

The youngster, Barry Borras of 37 Mar Vista Drive, was treated at Junipero Serra Emergency Hospital in San Francisco.

A Monday Encore For Sunday's Best

Leftovers never linger when the encore's as tempting as the first performance—a big Sunday roast that stars again as "Monday Beef Pie." The marvel of this Borden Kitchen recipe? An instant nonfat dry milk that's truly a low-cost convenience.

Monday Beef Pie
(Makes 4 to 6 servings)

- 2 cups (1 lb. can) sliced carrots
- 2 cups (1 lb. can) sweet peas
- 1 beef bouillon cube
- 2 tablespoons instant minced onions
- 1/2 cup Starlac instant nonfat dry milk
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 tablespoon butter
- 1-1/2 cups diced cooked beef
- 2 cups prepared Borden's Instant Whipped Potatoes

Drain carrots and peas. Reserve and measure juice to make one cup of liquid. Pour into top of double boiler. Add bouillon cube and onions. Heat to dissolve bouillon cube. Combine nonfat dry milk, flour, salt and pepper. Sprinkle over surface of bouillon. Beat with a rotary beater until just blended. Place over hot water. Stir constantly and cook about 5 minutes or until mixture thickens; stir in butter. Combine with drained vegetables and beef and heat for about 10 minutes. Pour vegetable-meat mixture into a 2-1/2-quart casserole. Prepare instant whipped potatoes according to package directions. Spoon or flute potatoes over surface of meat-vegetable mixture. If desired, place under broiler (about 3 inches from heat) until potatoes are lightly browned. Serve.

New Seafood Dish Has Gourmet Flavor

Are you hungry for a new seafood dish? This halibut main dish creates gourmet dining with very little effort. The savory halibut is marinated in and then basted with an intriguing sauce. The fish is topped with the sweet tartness of pineapple and cheddar cheese.

SWEET 'N SIMPLE HALIBUT STEAKS

- 2 pounds halibut steaks or other fish steaks, fresh or frozen
- 1 can (8½ or 8¾ ounces) crushed pineapple
- ⅓ cup French dressing
- 3 tablespoons pineapple juice
- ¾ teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- Dash cloves
- ½ cup grated natural Cheddar cheese
- Paprika

Thaw frozen steaks. Cut into serving-size portions and place in a single layer in a shallow baking dish. Drain pineapple, reserving juice for sauce. Combine dressing, pineapple juice, and seasonings. Pour sauce over fish and let stand for 30 minutes, turning once. Remove fish, reserving sauce for basting. Place fish on a well-greased broiler pan. Broil about 4 inches from source of heat for 4 to 5 minutes. Turn carefully and brush with remaining sauce. Broil 4 to 5 minutes longer or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Combine pineapple and cheese. Spread pineapple mixture over fish and sprinkle with paprika. Broil 2 to 3 minutes longer or until lightly browned. Serves 6.

High Flavor Rice Dish Costs Little

It is quite possible to serve an attractive and delicious brunch, lunch or supper main dish that also is low in cost without being obvious about it. Such a dish is Rice O'Brien with Bacon. With one pound of bacon and 6 cups of cooked rice as the main ingredients, it makes 10 luscious servings with expensive taste.

Rice O'Brien is gaily colored with pimiento and green pepper in quantity to supply a heap of flavor as well. The bacon is panfried crisp at the very start, and some of the drippings are then used to sauté the raw vegetables and the rice until the vegetables are tender and all the good flavor is blended in. The rice is then served topped with the crisp brown rashers; the result is so tempting to the eye and so good no one except the cook will realize how many pennies have been saved.

The family's favorite rice may be used in this recipe when cooking directions on the package are followed to the letter. Those directions assure the best flavor, tenderness, fluffiness and nutrition without one smidgen of unnecessary effort.

Rice O'Brien With Bacon

- 1 pound bacon, sliced
- 1½ cups chopped onions
- 1 cup chopped green pepper
- 6 cups cooked rice
- ½ cup diced pimiento
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- ½ teaspoon pepper

Pan-fry bacon until crisp. Drain on absorbent paper. Keep warm. Pour off all but three tablespoons of bacon drippings. Cook onions and green peppers until tender, but not brown. Add rice, pimiento and seasonings. Continue cooking until golden brown. Serve with the hot bacon.

Makes 10 servings.

An Almond Torte For an Occasion

Let's face it. No one expects you to make "Almond Anniversary Torte" just any old day. The occasion must be something special — wedding anniversary, birthday, holiday graduation, promotion at the office, new baby in the family, et cetera. Any of those happy events merits the extra effort that goes into this elegant dessert creation.

A delicious almond flavor pervades each mouthful. The three thin crisp layers are made with ground almonds, powdered sugar and egg whites. One of the fillings features ground almonds again (with whipped cream) while the other is a buttery coffee filling. And crisp roasted diced almonds are a part of the gala garnish.

You hardly need to be told that it's all quite rich—and quite possibly the best-tasting new dessert in a long, long time.

ALMOND ANNIVERSARY TORTE

- 1½ cups roasted diced almonds
- 1 1-3 cups sifted powdered sugar
- 3 egg whites
- 1 cup whipping cream
- ¼ cup granulated sugar
- ¼ cup water
- ½ to 1 teaspoon instant coffee powder
- 2 egg yolks
- 6 tablespoons soft butter or margarine

Grind 1½ cups almonds in food chopper with fine blade. Blend ground almonds and powdered sugar with fork. Beat egg whites until stiff; fold in 1 cup almond mixture. Divide mixture into thirds; spread each third into 9x4-inch rectangle on greased aluminum foil. Place on cookie sheets. Bake one sheet at a time in 325-degree (moderately slow) oven about 15 minutes or until light brown. Remove foil; cool layers on wire rack. Whip cream until stiff; reserve and refrigerate about 2-3 cup. Fold remaining almond mixture into remaining cream; refrigerate. Combine granulated sugar, water and coffee powder in small saucepan; cook over medium heat about 5 minutes, stirring occasionally, until reduced to half. Slowly pour warm sauce over egg yolks, stirring constantly. Add butter a little at a time and beat until smooth. Spread coffee filling evenly on 2 layers; spread almond-cream filling on top of coffee filling. Stack layers on serving plate with plain layer on top. Garnish with reserved cream and remaining almonds. To serve, cut into slices with sharp knife.

Makes about 8 servings.

Try Easy Cherry Cheese Cake Next

Wouldn't grandmother be amazed at the new products on our grocers' shelves these days? Not only do they save us untold chore-time in the kitchen, but they're often better than the "from scratch" version.

One real prize receipe we've just acquired makes use of two convenience foods; one, canned cherry pie filling, has been on the market for a number of years; the other is a brand-new packaged cheese cake mix that needs no baking. The recipe takes these two and turns them into a dessert that is certain to be the hit of the season.

Rich-flavored pecans are added to the graham cracker crumbs can come in the cheese cake mix package, and the two are blended with melted butter or margarine to make a crust for the cake. Next comes the cheese cake itself, a real snap since it's a mix! And to top the cake, a cherry pie filling-gelatin mixture adds a gay and tasty crown.

We've found that experienced cooks like this cake simply because it is so good to eat and attractive; and, for new cooks in the kitchen, nothing could be easier to prepare with assured fine results. This is a cherry cheese cake you'll certainly want to make at least once during February, that month of holidays — and each month after. Since it takes no badking to prepare, this is a recipe to hold dear for those times when warm weather melts away our desire for oven foods, too. It's so easy, it's a perfect dessert for any time!

CHERRY CHEESE CAKE

- 1 10½ ounce package cheese cake mix
- ¼ cup finely chopped pecans

QUICK TIP

Bacon-Topped Meat Loaf: Prepare favorite recipe for meat loaf and bake. Ten minutes before loaf is done put 4 strips bacon on top of meat loaf and finish baking.

Brandy Peaches For Dessert—Leaning Tower

QUALITY HAS NO SUBSTITUTE when it comes to good food, and once you've dined at JOE and LOU ERCOLI'S elegant LEANING TOWER in South San Francisco, you'll surely agree. Have you tried their Scampi Marinara served with rice (at only $3.75), followed by brandy peaches for dessert? The most important ingredient here is time—so plan on spending a little—you won't be sorry . . . TRUDY MASON, one of our favorite vocalists, joins the "Topless Plus" revue at the CHI CHI, tonight . . . A big hit at the Hotel Canterbury is the new Free Garage Parking for patrons of the Prime Rib Room or the Sunday Ramos Fizz Brunch . . . Many people were so upset that they were unable to get New Year's Eve reservations at PLATEAU 7, this year (General Manager JACK WALLER estimates he had to turn down hundreds), that many are already making reservations for next New Year's Eve . . . LORENZO PIETROBON is the new general manager of the LA HACIENDA INN. Lots of luck, Lorenzo, in your new venture.

GENERAL MANAGER OF THE CASTAWAY restaurant, the Peninsula's newest Polynesian restaurant at Coyote Point in San Mateo, is handsome Mike Pavelka, a native of Czechoslovakia, who takes discreet interest in the welfare and comfort of all who dine here. An alumni of Cornell University's famous Hotel and Restaurant School, Mike spends what little time off he gets, flying around the Bay Area in his private plane . . . Enrico Romano, Pacifica Italian food "champ," defines a reckless driver as one who passes you on the freeway in spite of all your car can do. . . . The beautiful Rocca's restaurant, is THE place to go. The food is tops, and they're open for lunch, dinner, or a banquet. . . . Everyone in town, at some time or another, manages to dine at the South the cuisine is prepared with culinary finesse. . . . Lake Tahoe's San Francisco Brentwood Lodge, where, they have discovered, Crystal Bay Club co-owner, H. E. McCoskey, is convinced that you can go from middle age to old age in seconds if you twist your back while doing the watusi or jerk.

10 YEARS AGO, popular Elton Paris was engaged for a 10-week appearance at Finocchio's in San Francisco. He made it a habit of scoring such big hits with his funny and unique style of singing and swinging that Joe Finocchio made it his habit of renewing the comedian's contract. This has continued for a whole decade, which only goes to show that once in the swim at the top, there's no sinking a natural unsinkable funnyman. In the current Finocchio revue, Paris is doing one of the funniest acts of his career . . . Phil Lehr has set an opening date for the elegant and lavish new Wellington Room at his downtown Steakery. Monday, Jan. 17, at 5 p.m. will be the unveiling for what we think will be acclaimed as the most unusual and beautiful dining room in the U.S. . . . Bee Goman gets nothing but laughs at the Gay 90's with her sophisticated "song-story" titled "Since I Lost My Glasses, I Wonder Who's Kissing Me Now?" . . .

TALENTED SINGER-PIANIST MARY GORDON sings and plays with originality and imagination at Mac's Tea Room in Los Altos. Her nightly audiences enjoy every note . . . Your Bright Lighter's Reno scouts report they saw South San Francisco Holiday Inn's fine pianist Gary Long and his wife, Lucha, spending a well-deserved week vacation at the Golden Hotel . . . Talent scouts, attention: Entertainers in the five-star variety floor show at Palo Alto's Cameo Club are worthy of your notice. Singer Daryl Johnson has a superbly-controlled voice which earns her more applause than the exotic dancers. Comic Charlie Boyer brings the house to raucous laughter with his non-stop gags—like "Our next dancer is a former Miss America. It isn't so much, because when she won there were only 13 colonies!" Latest addition to the floor show is formful undresser, Carla Sands . . . Ray Cruise, fizzer at Del Vecchio's, took a "cruise" to Reno and came home with new bride Pam. Boss Sam Del Vecchio gave the newlyweds a champagne dinner.

SOMEONE COINED A PHRASE that's catching on along San Francisco's Broadway — "The Topless to see is Bambi Lee!" They're referring to the topless star at the Galaxie . . . Currently raising the room temperature at Al Swanson's Old Chicago Club in Sunnyvale is a bevy of beautiful well-endowed exotic dancers who pack the house each p.m. with their wild terpsichorean movements. Amateur strip show on Monday nights . . . There are few good restaurants where one can get a good lunch for less then $1.50. But Phyllis and Augie Aprile's Augie's on Third Avenue features a "Special for the Day" for only $1.05 (includes soup or salad and coffee). Open for both luncheon and dinner . . . Seen dining at Dino's of San Mateo, recently, was singer Rusty Draper, who seemed mighty impressed with the food, as well as the service . . . French cuisine as it's prepared by the great chefs of Paris awaits your visit to Dan Biagi and Rene Canabou's Cote D'Azur.

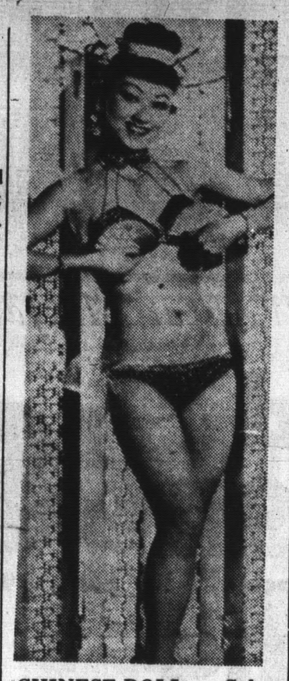
HOTEL THUNDERBIRD launched a $100,000 "House Party," last Sunday, to introduce everyone to its recently completed and expanded gaming, dining and entertainment facilities. The 37-day party runs through Feb. 6, with a grand prize drawing for a 1966 Lincoln Continental or a $10,000 Marquise diamond ring. In addition, over 41,000 other prizes are offered ranging from diamond rings, watches, cash awards up to $2,000 and free meals in any of the Thunderbird's four fine restaurants. Daily events during the entire promotion include double slot jackpots paid every hour around the clock as well as cash drawings for lucky numbered casino chairs. Daily at 7 p.m. there are two $50 cash drawings going to patrons sitting in the numbered casino chairs and playing any of the lucky numbered slots. At 11:45 each evening, an additional drawing is held especially for hotel guests with $100 going to the holder of the selected room key number.



CHINESE DOLL — Coby Yee, known from coast to coast as the "Chinese Dancing Doll," and owner of the far famed Forbidden City, one of San Francisco's senior niteries, will present an all-new floor show, tomorrow night, which will feature many top Oriental entertainers.

The Larry Wongs (he's a professor at City College and a partner at the Four Seas) enjoyed a steak dinner, a few eves ago, at Lew Lehr's.

Tina Loo, star go-go dancer and choreographer, appears nightly at the San Francisco Whisky A Go-Go. Tiny Tina will show you how to do any of the newest modern dances, including the stylish "Temptation Walk," "The Duck," and even the "Temper Tantrum," if you insist. Tina says these dances are easy, and when you see her perform them high above the dance floor in the glass booth, you'll think so, too.

Years ago an Armenian friend said to George Mardikian, host-owner of the popular Omar Khayyam's restaurant, "George, how would you describe the formula for success?" "Hard work," he replied. "That is the thing that all successful careers have in common."

Time to Visit Barney's Casino

Treat yourself to a snow-white holiday by visiting Barney's Casino, Lake Tahoe (South Shore), Nevada. This is the perfect time of year to take a scenic Greyhound Bus ride and enjoy this winter wonderland setting.

Barney's restaurant prepares delicious food at prices everyone can afford. Free coffee is also served, 24-hours a day. Two cocktail lounges and an exciting gaming casino complete the "Entertainment the Nevada Way" picture.

Make it a point to try the San Francisco New Tivoli for luncheon. Delicious Italian food; priced in the family dine out bracket.

Jeanne and Don Koblick have worked long and hard to make their Gourmet Table "All you can eat" presentation one of the best in the area—and they have succeeded most successfully. Help yourself to hot Italian, Chinese, Mexican and American entrees, plus 17 crisp salads. Dinner is served seven days a week; lunch, Monday through Friday.

The fine art work on wall display at the South San Francisco International Inn Restaurant is certainly worth your critical observation. Have General Manager Phil Rauscher take you on a dining and banquet room "tour"—you're sure to find an oil to fit that special room.

Roger Collins Recording Star Brass Rail Feature

Topless shows featuring voluptous "Marty" and six sensational Go-Go Girls and starring "Soul Brother" Roger Collins, fabulous new recording star of "Tossin and Turnin," make for tumultuous action at the Brass Rail, the jumpin' spot near Lockheed in Sunnyvale.

Collins, a San Francisco youngster, is the newest singing rage who also makes a guitar talk. You either dance or watch others Swim and Frug to the hot rock and roll rhythms of Teri and the Pirates.

VILLA HOTEL ATTRACTION —"The Lively Ones" (top to bottom) Bernie Souza, Al Cava (leader), and Russ Kennedy, well known recording group, are proving a big hit with the New Villa Lounge patrons.

Caravan Inn Beauty Film Tests In France

Playboy Magazine almost springs to life when you visit the cocktail lounge of the Caravan Inn in Mountain View. Cocktail charmers like Lee Fausone, a long-stemmed, stunning beauty, wear a minimum of clothing as they serve your favorite "red eye."

The superbly-endowed blonde even caught the attention of Italian producer Carlo Ponti, husband of actress Sophia Loren. Last year, he flew her to France where she was film tested.

Sea Food Also a House Specialty At Scotty Campbell's

Diners are very pleased that Scotty Campbell's in Redwood City serves sea food as well as prime rib and steaks. Filet of Sole Marguery en Casserole, Mountain Brook Trout, Broiled Mai Mai Almondine, Scampie, and Broiled Australian Lobster Tail are just a few of the favorite dishes served here every night.

The tasty dishes served at the Shadows in San Mateo are served midst real "Old German" atmosphere. For an after dinner drink, try the nearby Cap'ns Cabin, also owned by Dave Rasmussen and Duane Eckert.

For a ravioli or cannelloni treat (old country style), Mom Bertolucci's home cooking is something to brag about. Bertolucci's in South San Francisco is the dining target.

Taste tip of the week: Leo Dardarian's Red Lion Inn serves Ris De Veau A'La Princesse (veal sweetbreads sauteed, served with asparagus and sauce allemande) that's superb!

GAINING WEIGHT

In a nation whose principal nutrition problem, and maybe its most important health problem, is overweight, there are actualy many persons who want to, and ought to, gain weight.

Underweight is generally regarded as an advantage in terms of long life and relative freedom from the diseases and discomforts that go along with overweight. In general this is true, and there is validity in the old proverb that a lean horse is best for a long race.

But there are disadvantages to underweight, besides the nickname "skinny." The body requires a certain amount of fat in the right places for comfort and good health. Under the skin there is normally a layer of fat which acts as an insulator to help keep the person warm, and plays a part in forming the more pleasing contours of the body, especially the feminine body. Pads of fat in the abdomen, and in the apron-like curtain called the omentum which covers the intestines, help to support internal organs in their places. Fat also plays a part in joints.

The long and overly lean individual is more susceptible to certain chest conditions, including tuberculosis, and digestive troubles of the ulcer type, than is the person of normal weight or above.

How, then, can the underweight person put on more pounds? The procedure is the reverse of that recommended for losing weight. The first step is the same—namely a complete medical examination. Before one can hope to gain weight, one must be free from disease conditions which keep the weight down. When this has been established, the procedure then is as follows:

1. try to eat more; if necessary eat more often;
2. eat more of the foods that furnish more calories in small bulk; butter, cheese, meat, eggs, sweets, chocolate, cream;
3. reduce activity; sit more and stand less, ride more and walk less;
4. whenever possible, rest or nap after eating.

Of course, in choosing your foods, be sure to include the necessary variety from the four food groups, but emphasize the foods that are commonly, though inaccurately, called "fattening." It is the diet as a whole that is fattening; not any one food.

1 can (10½ oz.) condensed cream of celery or mushroom soup
½ cup milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 cup cubed cooked pork
1 cup cubed cooked potatoes (about 2 medium)
½ cup cooked peas
Dash pepper

Cook onion in butter until lightly browned. Blend in soup, milk, and Worcestershire. Add remaining ingredients. Cook over low heat 10 minutes; stir often. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Quick Tip

x-Oven-Sauteed Apple Rings. Cut tart apples in ½-inch thick slices, dip in melted butter, then in fine crumbs. Arrange in greased shallow baking pan; sprinkle lightly with suar and sesame seeds. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes until tender and serve hot.

COCKTAIL SAUCE
1 cup tomato catchup
¼ cup chili sauce
2 teaspoons bottled horseradish
1 teaspoons lemon juice
Tabasco sauce to taste

Thoroughly stir together all the ingredients. Makes one and one-third cups. Serve as an accompaniment to cooked shrimp on salad greens.

Curling Bacon

Bacon curls make an attractive garnish with breakfast eggs, panfried liver or even steak. Cook the bacon slightly (whether by panbroiling or broiling), then wind it around a fork and finish cooking.

Barbecue Beans With Link Sausage

Here's a luncheon treat that is simple and easy to make — barbecue beans with sausage. Then top the day off with turkey stroganoff for dinner.

Supper
Turkey Stroganoff (Sunday Dividend)
Green Beans St. Croix
Tossed Salad with Peanut Dressing
Deep Dish Apple Pie
Coffee — Milk

Barbecue Beans with Sausage
1 pound link sausage
2 cans (1 pound each) barbecue beans

Cook sausage. Pour off all but 2 tablespoons drippings. Add beans. Heat, stirring now and then. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Turkey Stroganoff
¼ cup chopped green pepper
2 tablespoons chopped onion
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
½ cup sour cream
2 cups cooked noodles
1 cup diced cooked turkey
½ teaspoon paprika

Cook green pepper and onion in butter until tender. In 1-quart casserole, blend soup and sour cream; stir in remaining ingredients. Bake in a 350 degree oven 30 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

Quick Tips

Carrot Slaw:

Mixed shredded raw carrots and grated celery-cabbage in half and half proportion. Add 2 to 4 tablespoons raisins, if desired, and toss well with creamy cheese dressing.

Green Beans St. Croix:

Spread 3 cups cooked cut green beans in shallow baking dish. Mix 2 tablespoons melted butter, 2 tablespoons chopped pimiento, pinch celery seed, and a dash of "Tabasco." Pour over beans. Sprinkle with cup toasted bread cubes. Bake at 450 degrees 15 to 20 minutes, or until hot. Makes 4 servings.

Peanut Dressing

Stir ¼ cup peanut butter with 3 tablespoons French dressing and 1 teaspoon vinegar. Gradually blend in ½ cup mayonnaise.

Braised Lamb Is Pleasant

Braised lamb is easy for the bride, pleasant to the diner.

Braised Lamb Potatoes
Snap Beans Crusty Rolls
Baked Apples Beverage

BRAISED LAMB
1¾ pounds lamb neck for stew
1 teaspoon paprika
1 tablespoon fat
1 medium onion, diced
1 clove garlic, minced
1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce

Sprinkle the lamb with the paprika. In a heavy 10-inch skillet, heat the fat and brown the lamb in it. Add remaining ingredients plus ½-cup water. Simmer, covered tightly, until tender — about two hours — adding water in ¼-cup amounts as needed to keep sauce from being very thick. Add salt to taste. Skim off fat. Makes three large servings.

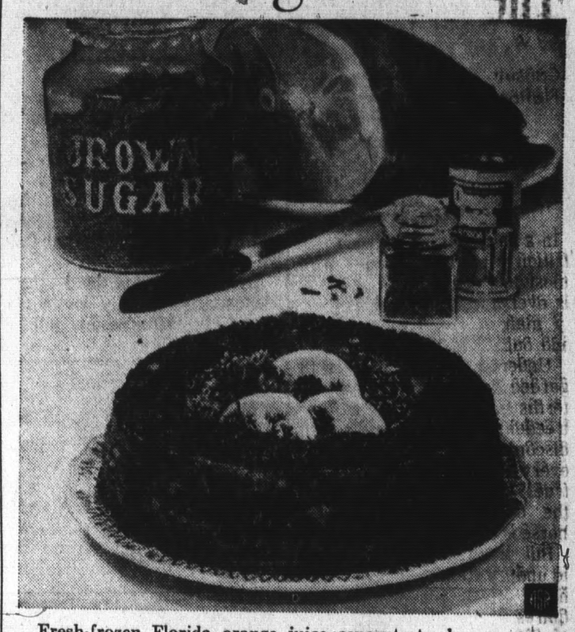
Caramel Orange Ham Ring Has It



Fresh-frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, brown sugar, mustard and cloves flavor this attractive Caramel Orange Ham Ring. It looks so tempting, tastes so delicious, and is so economical to make, too!

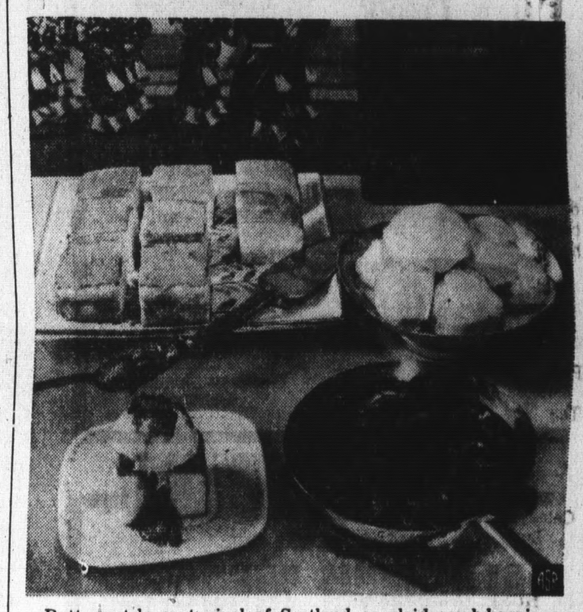
The orange concentrate — as convenient a cooking ingredient as it is a breakfast juice — gives the baked ring luscious flavor and moistness. This is an easy recipe for a main dish using leftover ham, or your butcher will grind the required amount for you.

Caramel Orange Ham Ring

- 2 eggs
- ½ teaspoon Tabasco
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 3 cups fresh bread crumbs
- 2 pounds (5 cups) ground cooked ham
- 1 can (6 ounces) frozen Florida orange juice concentrate, thawed
- ½ cup water
- ⅓ cup brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon whole cloves

Beat eggs in large bowl. Stir in Tabasco and dry mustard. Add bread crumbs, ground ham, orange juice concentrate and water; mix well. Sprinkle brown sugar and whole cloves into bottom of 6-cup ring mold. Add ham mixture, packing firmly into pan. Bake in 350°F. oven 1 hour. Turn onto serving platter. Garnish with parsley and orange slices.
YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Saucy Butterscotch In Exotic Sauce



Butterscotch, as typical of Scotland as plaids and bagpipes, takes a quick trip around the world to join forces with crushed pineapple in an exotic dessert sauce. This meeting of West and East produces a sauce of mellow color and flavor that glamorizes ice cream or cake. Thanks to butterscotch flavored morsels, the sauce can be made in a few minutes and, once made, it keeps well in the refrigerator.

Butterscotch Pineapple Skillet Sauce

- 1 can (9 ounces) crushed pineapple
- 2 tablespoons butter
- 1 6-ounce package (1 cup) butterscotch morsels

Put crushed pineapple with syrup into saucepan. Add butter and bring to a boil, stirring occasionally. Reduce heat; simmer 5 minutes. Remove from heat. Add butterscotch morsels and stir until melted.
YIELD: Approximately 1⅓ cups.
NOTE: If sauce is chilled in refrigerator, reheat over low heat before serving.

Molded Fruit Dish For Smart Cooks

Smart cooks will discover the flavor secret of this shimmering ring of fruit; the juicy mandarin orange sections in the topping and plump banana slices in the gelatin match the delicate orange-banana flavor of the gelatin. Crunchy chopped pecans and a spicing of slivered ginger add to the distinctive taste. Try this molded dessert for a refreshing ending to your next roast beef or chicken dinner.

MOLDED FRUIT CAROUSEL

- 2 packages (3 oz. each) Jell-O Orange-Banana Gelatin
- 2 cups boiling water
- 1 can (11 oz.) mandarin orange sections
- 1½ cups (about) cold water
- ½ cup coarsely chopped pecans
- 2 bananas, sliced
- 1 cup heavy cream
- 2 tablespoons slivered candied ginger (optional)

Dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Drain orange sections, measuring syrup. Add water to syrup to make 2 cups; add to gelatin. Chill gelatin until thickened. Then fold in nuts and bananas. Pour into 1½-quart mold. Chill until firm—at least 3 hours. Chop the orange sections, setting aside several sections to use as garnish. Whip cream; fold in chopped oranges and ginger. Chill. To serve, unmold ring. Place whipped cream mixture in center and garnish with reserved orange sections. Makes 8 servings.

At this meeting, the newly elected officers will assume their duties.

An added feature will be the showing of films: "What Is Communism?"; "What Is the Difference Between Socialism and Communism?"; "What Can We Do About It?"

All Republicans and their friends are cordially invited to attend and refreshments will be served.

TWO-DAY JEFF PROGRAM

Ryan Will Open 'Senate'

ASSEMBLYMAN Leo Ryan of the Twenty-seventh District will be the presiding officer at Jefferson High School's seventh annual students' model senate, which opens at 8:30 this morning.

The program, which is under the direction of Frank Kane of the school's social studies department, is a yearly event. It is run entirely by students.

There will be two sessions: one this morning and another at 12:30 Friday afternoon. Ryan will attend both meetings.

Today's agenda will be highlighted by reports from three standing committees.

First on the agenda will be a proposed bill submitted by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, (D-Texas), whose part is being taken by Rose Ann Wallace. The bill is called "The National Health Bill."

LEO RYAN
He'll Preside

THE BILL is concerned with the dissemination of medical information and $75-million in funds for the states to use for clinics, supplies and personnel necessary for the treatment of venereal disease.

The program, if passed, will be administered by the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Second proposed bill on the agenda will be the "Assemblage on Federal Property Act."

This bill will be submitted by Sen. James Eastland (D-Miss.) whose part is being taken by Ronald Murphy.

The bill is aimed at preventing "potential acts of civil disobedience and violence, which may result from a meeting of an assembled body of individuals on federal property."

The third bill to be presented will be the "Fair Housing Act."

SEN. THOMAS KUCHEL (R-Cal.), whose place has been taken by Douglas Urbanus, and Sen. James Pearson (R-Kan), whose place has been taken by Catherine Urbanus, will introduce the bill.

According to the agenda, the bill is "an act to abolish discrimination in the selling, leasing or renting of public and private housing to any person or persons on the grounds of race, color, religion, creed, ancestry or national origin."

Friday, students will work on the fourth and final bill on the list: "Senate Resolution on Foreign Aid."

The bill, submitted by Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D-Ark.), is concerned with the U.S. policy on dispensing foreign aid.

He Holds Record, Too, For Council

Two men—not one—held a Daly City council seat longer than anyone else, one of the men pointed out proudly this week.

In a story last week, The Post - Times reported that only the late Hugh H. Smith had served longer than Councilman Edward Dennis who has announced he would seek re-election to a fifth term. Smith served 22 years.

However, the longevity record is shared by Henry Sundermann Sr. of 10 Guadalupe Avenue who served 22 consecutive years, starting in 1920.

Now 86, Sundermann was Daly City's fire marshall before he became a councilman He has been a Daly City resident since 1905.
